Liz,
Well, reading some of these notes almost makes me wonder about your summer activities. If you do plunge into the house cleaning Brigade, don't forget that Kraft makes the best marshmellows.
Biology's been late this year, anyway.
Good luck always
Alan Lickey

Liz,
well since there is a lot of room to write on I will write a lot. It has been nice knowing you these past three years. I hope to see you again next year. Well keep up the good work in tennis and as I say never give up on anything that you do. Ok. Have a nice summer don't do anything that I would do. I hope to get to know your sister better next year.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Board of Education, headed by Dr. Seymour, sets the policies for the operation of West High School. It is directly accountable for the planning and carrying out of all these policies within the entire Phoenix Union High School District.

Tradition was broken this year with the installation of Mrs. Lakin, the first woman to become president of the board.

All budgets must be approved through the board and although most of this year's sum was from local taxes, additional money came from state, county, and federal funds.

The cost for instruction was the greatest expenditure in the budget, while money was allowed for the maintenance and operation of the ten schools.

DR. ROBERT GARD

PRINCIPAL

In his second year as Principal of West, Dr. Robert Gard has once again met with the responsibilities and problems of his job.

One of West's biggest problems was the overcrowded conditions. There are approximately 2,650 students with an overload of 9% on the facilities.

Dr. Gard commented, "There is quite an interesting group of young people here at West. The student body doesn't fall into a general apathy. This school has a personality. Students take pride in their school while their parents support it. Most of all, West has a strong faculty which is very rewarding for me."

Dr. Gard leaves this message to graduating Seniors. "A student's knowledge is measured when he leaves school. I'm confident Seniors have had a sound background for what lies ahead. I certainly hope you will make the most of this, for in the long run, that's what we're here for."

Dr. Gard's face expresses the calm that is characteristic of him in any situation.

ASSOCIATE PRINCIPAL

As Associate Principal this year, Mr. Roland's official job entailed control over budget, cafeteria, bookstore, athletic co-ordinator, just about everything excluding curricular activities.

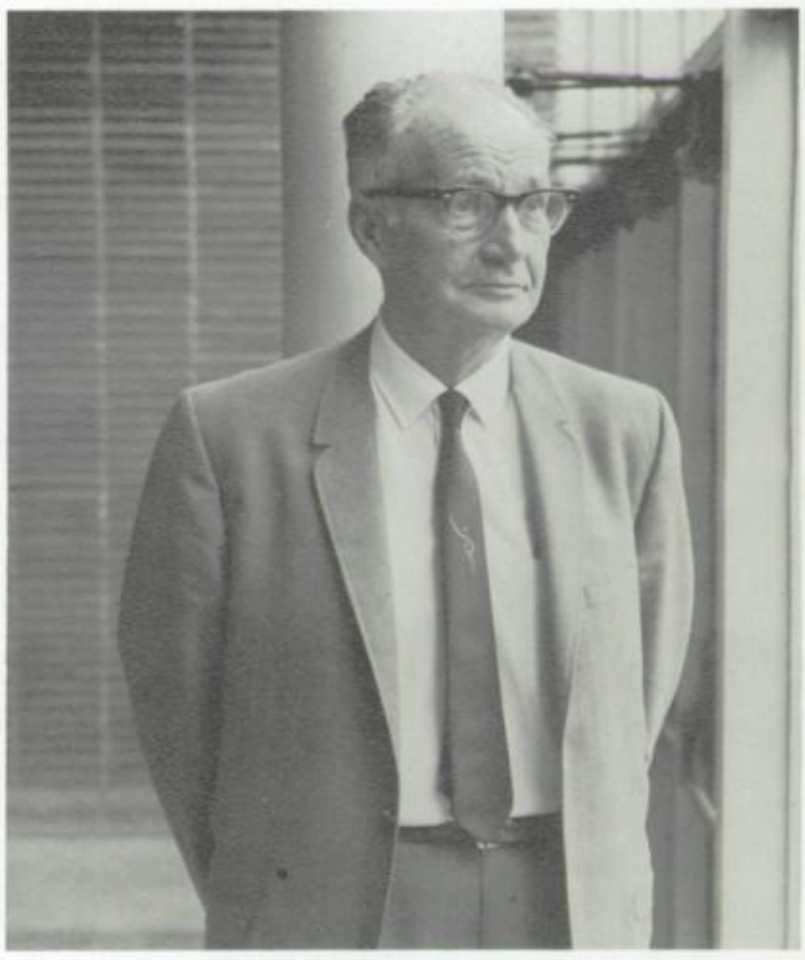
We had a modified form of Flexible Scheduling this year. Most classes required daily attendance, but free prep periods were kept. During this time students could go to the library, resource center or relax in the olive tree area.

Mr. Roland has a definite philosophy concerning the administrative rules. "A smaller amount of rules obeyed, is much more successful than a large number of rules that are ignored." Most of the students abide by the rules, it's the small 10% of them that cause problems.

This word of advice is left to graduating Seniors. "Don't make your life a shadow. Be yourself and don't try to copy or pattern yourself after someone else."

Mr. Charles W. Roland

With his great sense of humor, Mr. Roland faces life with his usual optomistic attitude.



Mr. Roland looks like he's in deep thought about how to solve one of the many problems he encounters on his job.

Best of luck in your future years at college!
Jerome C. Siegel

BOYS ADM. ASS'T.

Mr. Jerome Siegel

As Administrative Assistants this year, Miss Jeanne Bailey and Mr. Jerome Siegel have tried to tie in school activities, disciplinary, and attendance problems in accordance with school rules.

Numerous problems, new and old, have shown up this year. These problems however, only applied to about 10% of the student body. Most students have followed the administrative policies set down for them.

While assisting teachers with discipline, Mr. Siegel performs in the athletic programs as co-ordinator of athletic events. He checks the eligibility of athletes while also scheduling the games.

Miss Bailey's job entails working with students in activities and clubs. She also advises and counsels students with problems.

Miss Bailey's message to students is, "Though enforcing the rules, I'm trying to create a good atmosphere on campus. The problems that we have are created by a small, immature minority of the student body."

Mr. Siegel's message to the students is, "For the majority of the students, your favorable acceptance of flexible scheduling has been recognized. Having been given this opportunity to attempt this innovation in education, the Thunderbirds have shown that their self-reliance and responsibility are equal to the task. Whatever may be the outcome of this experimental program the T-Birds may be assured that their character growth and individual responsibility have impressed your faculty and administrative staff."

GIRLS ADM. ASS'T

Miss Jeanne Bailey

Miss Bailey and Mr. Siegel spend a large part of their day on the telephone whether it be checking on students with discipline problems or co-ordinating student activities.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The Business department this year headed by Miss Ruth Miller, was designed to give students a better idea of business operations in the business world.

Students can take courses such as Typing, Shorthand, Bookkeeping, or Business Machines, enabling them to learn a skill, whether for a job in the future or just for personal use.

In some cases students who excel in the business course, can get a part time job, with a recommendation from their teachers.

Business courses can take up a lot of extra time. Have you ever walked into a typing room around 3:15? More than likely you'll find a room full of people catching up on back assignment.

A business course isn't just a regular class. It's a stepping stone for the future of the student, who is willing to work to find a successful and satisfying job.

Is there possibly a slight distaste for typing shown on Linda Keenes face as Mrs. McClain explains an assignment.

With a timing in progress the rest of the world's forgotten, and these typing students become completely absorbed.

FINE ARTS

"I can say to you, that art is the best and most reliable friend you can acquire."—Einstein

The Fine Arts department encompasses a variety of subjects ranging from music and drama to photography and art.

Within the instrumental and vocal sections alone, almost 25% of West's student body is involved. Through this section, the largest that represents our school, we receive most of our publicity.

Each year the drama department stages two all school plays. This year they were, "You Can't Take it with You" and "The Miracle Worker," both drawing large crowds.

Photography offers first year and also advanced classes. Hints in picture taking as well as techniques in printing and developing are taught and from these classes West has been awarded national honors every year.

Publications is a very important section of this department to the whole student body. With a lot of hard work this department is responsible for both our newspaper, the Sundial, and the Westerner, our annual.

Our art department offers special courses in ceramics and crafts as well as regular courses. Students not only learn techniques, but they also pick up a good deal of history and culture along the way.

West High offers both first and second year speech. This year we hosted the Forensic League of Arizona speech contest. The fine arts section as a whole is an excellent department. Because many of the classes are on an individual basis and are the students choice alone, they strive for the goal of perfection.

ENGLISH

The English department is the largest department with twenty-one teachers, teaching seventy-nine different sections.

With Mr. Ressler as the department head the English department is developing a trend toward individualized instruction in small sections combined with large group lectures.

In addition to teaching regular English courses at three levels in each class, the English department staffs a well stacked resource center, where students may pursue special research and receive individual help.

Miss Campo's 7th hour English class seems to be bearing up very well — with the help of her ever-ready jokes.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

The Foreign Language department carries on an extensive program offering four years of Spanish, French, Latin, and German.

In all the courses, from the first year through the fourth, the culture and literature involved are stressed as well as grammar and vocabulary.

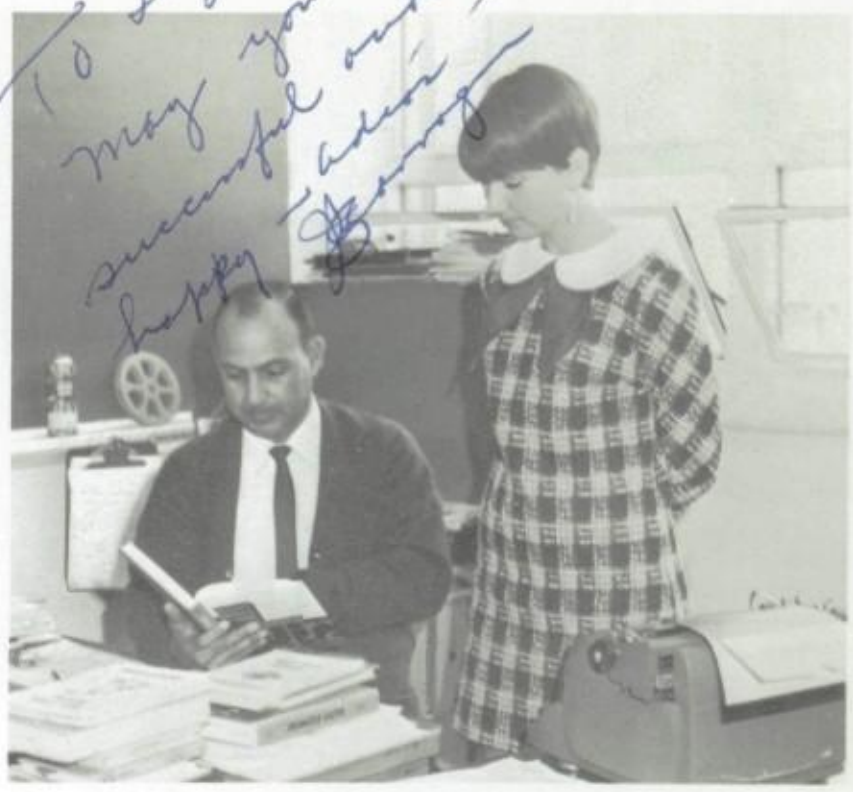
The instructors are reinforced in their teaching through the use of the lab and the resource center where materials are available for extra credit work.

Although unofficial, third and fourth year are actually advanced courses because of the detail they go into.

The grading scale used, since learning a foreign language is difficult, is not as high as in other departments but this should not be misleading. These courses take work. By second semester students are expected to converse and understand almost entirely in their language, and since these courses are unrequired students take them by choice.

Spanish seems to be very popular because of our location; Latin runs second since many feel that it is the base of all other languages.

Foreign language, in addition to being rewarding, makes an excellent major or minor in college and is an asset in any field of work.



Michelle Hayt listens attentively as Mr. Barragon explains some of her duties as student assistant.

HOME-ECONOMICS

Our Home Economics department offers a four year program to all students, though generally the first three years are of interest to girls only.

Both first and second year Home Economics basically include one semester of cooking and one semester of sewing First year, also offers students a course in grooming; an introduction to fabrics and color and second year an authorized Red Cross course in home nursing is covered.

During the third year, the course is divided into two sections: Child Development and Home Management. The Child Development course offers students an opportunity to observe human nature in children. The second portion of this course covers all the phases involved in the tricky operation of home management including budgeting time and money.

Fourth year within this department comes under the title Human Relations. Because human relations are of interest to everyone, boys are drawn as equally as girls to this course. Human Relations covers just that — the joys and complications of one human relating with another.

Lynette Johnson performs the most basic of sewing skills—threading the needle.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Among the courses offered by this department are metal shop, graphic arts, drafting, auto mechanics, electronics, and wood working. As cars always hold a particular interest for boys, auto shop is the most popular of these courses.

A new course, Graphic Communications, was offered second semester. This course made it possible for students to become acquainted with machinery and situations they are likely to encounter in their chosen occupations.

Industrial Commerce Education, (I.C.E.), is a program which helps train students for jobs. During their Senior year many students leave campus for the last half of the day and work on jobs found for them by I.C.E.

Although Industrial Arts enrollment consisted largely of boys, a few girls participated in the program. Individual help is stressed in learning the techniques of each separate art.

MATHEMATICS

Twelve math teachers headed by Mr. Weldon Zimmerman make up the Math department.

They offer a wide variety of courses from General Math to Introductry Analysis, while striving to explain the why and how of a problem instead of just getting the correct answer.

Many advanced classes are offered to better prepare the Math student for college, such as accelerated Geometry, Trigonometry, and Introductory Analysis.

Computer Programming is taught to recommended students by Mr. Lowery. They learn how to program computers and they also go to P.C. to process them.

The State Math Contest was held at West on April 1st. Prizes relating to math were given to West students, who as usual, took many top honors, with Mr. Weldon Zimmerman organizing the contest.

BOYS P.E.

The Boys Physical Education department tries to stimulate interest and participation in sports and promote physical fitness.

Regular Boys P.E. is made up of fifteen different sports, some of the most popular are: football, basketball, wrestling, track, and baseball. They also spend 3 weeks learning rules and techniques of such sports as soccer, handball, volleyball, tennis, trampoline, and weight training.

For the first time at West, Freshmen were required to take P.E., but a large majority continue to take it four years.

The grade is based on points gained from dressing out, participation, attitude, skill, and a final written exam.

Boys on a Varsity team practice their particular sport during Varsity P.E. 8th hour.

Following through with the intention of stimulating interest in sports, the wide variety offered in this program does this successfully.

Angelo Rivers, in perfect form, jumps for the basket while Jim Christian decides whether to block him or let this one go.

GIRLS P.E.

The Girls Physical Education department is a very active one with the widest choice of courses available in the school.

While P.E. was a required subject for all freshmen, upperclassmen were given more freedom. Aside from the special dance program, another program was in full swing this year which gave the girls an opportunity to choose a new activity every six weeks. Of these some of the more popular were badminton, tennis, tumbling, and golf.

Students are graded on four categories; attendance, dressing out, skill, and attitude with each category worth a possible twenty points.

Miss Dryer, head of the P.E. department, feels that these activities are not only a fun way to spend time, but they also teach the girls how to get along and help build sportsmanship and character.

SOCIAL STUDIES

"Man will not only endure - he will prevail"

God Bless
Fred

There are a variety of courses offered under the Social Studies department.

Both Freshmen and Sophomores may take either World Geography or World History. While neither of these courses are advanced, World History definitely requires more work.

During the third year, as all Juniors are aware, there looms American History. This, as well as American Government and Economics during the Senior year, is a required course set by state law. International relations and Arizona History are combined into these two courses.

SPECIAL SUBJECTS

Reading Improvement is designed for students who are not reading up to their potential. Each student takes a diagnostic reading test at the beginning of the program. From this his needs are evaluated and work geared to meet these needs is assigned. The work is varied from "old fashioned" workbooks dealing with phonics, vocabulary, etc., to "modern" reading machines designed to increase comprehension and speed. A variety of literature and S.R.A. reading labs are also available.

Driver's Education is a one semester course and though no credit is given it is required sometime between the Sophomore year and graduation. Because this course is short and so much must be covered, a total of five absences causes a student to be dropped and despite grade average, the course must be re-taken. Driver's Education covers the basic steps necessary to keep a person alive after an accident before professional help arrives. In addition to this first aid course all driving rules and regulations are covered thoroughly. Next year Mr. Munson hopes for actual driving equipment to test reaction rates and give students first hand experience behind the wheel.

SCIENCE

Different shades of mirth ripple across Dr. Thorpe's Harvard Physics class.

Our Science department headed by Mr. Stitt, offered a good choice of subjects to all students this year.

The freshman course of General Science will be joined next year by an Earth and Space Science course. Sophomores and upperclassmen were offered Biology 1 & 2 both up the scale to A or down to C in addition to the regular course. Biology 3 & 4 was available to Juniors and Seniors as well as Chemistry, advanced or regular, and several forms of Physics. Either regular or advanced Physics courses were available to all Seniors but only to Juniors with recommendation slips besides Harvard Physics which was taught only second period by Dr. Thorpe, during his last year here. This course didn't require math as in the other course of Physics and the pace was slower covering a different type of program.

All the advanced courses in any of the above subjects required a recommendation by the department head, a teacher, or counselor before a student could enroll. Because of our extensive equipment the laboratories are considered to be better than that of most colleges.

To graduate, one laboratory science is required and any of the above fill this requirement except General Science.

The teachers, as in many departments, grade on a point system suited to their own particular course.

Science is an important subject and one that is beneficial to all walks of life and our courses are extensive enough to prepare a science major for college.

COUNSELORS

Best of everything in the future. Don't lose that wonderful personality.
J Schoolland

Mr. John Schoolland
Head Counselor

The Counseling department at West has long been used as means of establishing students with a better relationship with teachers, classmates, even themselves.

There are eight counselors, each with a load of 375 students.

There are a number of student problems that counselors have to cope with. Some students are having trouble at home, or the problem might be some student's inability in learning to study.

Counselors also help to plan a young person's future. They advise him in what courses to take and what college might be best for him. They also must make the students understand that his ambitions should not override his abilities.

Counselors duties' don't just stop at this, there are a hundred more things they have done for students. Some of them are job placement, scholarship recommendation, achievement tests, and a lot of extra time given to help some student with a problem.

In the words of Mr. Schoolland, head counselor, "We are here to help students and teachers. We hope you will take advantage of this."

Guaymas, here we come! Mrs. Adair, Travel Club's president shows LaVae Vogt some of the beautiful sights at Guaymas. The Travel Club provides students with the opportunity to visit some of the more interesting spots in the United States.

Despite the continual work going on in the counseling office, someone has taken time out for a sprinkling of Christmas cheer.

West's financial state is managed by Mrs. Annalee Moore and Mrs. Clara Tanner. They handle all class and club treasuries, while also selling books, supplies, locks, and special events tickets.

Any organization taking money out of their treasury must present a requisition for approval and to keep the records straight, as all money must be accounted for.

The bookstore is a combination of a bank, drugstore, and stationery store, put on campus for the students' convenience.

The Bookstore keeps students supplied with pencil, paper, and books in addition to the safekeeping of club finances.

BOOKSTORE

Eighteen women had the job of keeping track of more than 2800 students.

Registration, attendance, and records are the three main jobs taken care of by the Clerical staff. Under these are many unknown jobs such as checking addresses, athletic legibility, recording grades, checking absences, and mimeographing material.

These women do the hidden but very important jobs necessary to keep a school running smoothly.

HEALTH CENTER

"May I have a pass to see the nurse?" This question is asked by about 50 students a day. Mrs. Laura Scofield, the school nurse, plays a necessary and vital role at West. She must be on hand at all times to help students with any medical problems, while keeping a medical record of every student. Mrs. Scofield conducts physical examinations for boys participating in sports and gives hearing and eye tests.

The Health Center is equipped to handle any emergency, but most of the problems that arise are small. Six girls and four boys can be accommodated at one time, but a student may go home, with parent permission.

Tentative

No medication can be given, other than cleaning wounds and applying antiseptics. But students are given advice to see their doctor if necessary.

Mrs. Laura Scofield
Nurse

"Come on, open up," instructs the substitute nurse, Mrs. Frances Lower. Joyce Lombare has her temperature taken to see whether she is sick enough to be sent home.

LIBRARY

Mr. Lee Aston
Librarian
Mrs. Dorothy Davis
Librarian Assistant

Mrs. Anne McGrath
Librarian Assistant
Miss Barbara Riggin
Librarian

Our library, with well over 2,000 books, is one of the most valuable facilities on campus. Books were checked out through the use of I.D. cards and no charge was made on over-due books although notices were sent out as reminders. This no-charge system, which West has not always used, worked out very well; the added responsibility prompting students to return books when they were due. The library offers students the materials and the aid necessary to complete almost any piece of work assigned here at West. Mr. Ashton, our head librarian, feels that students didn't realize that the librarians were there to help—not patrol. Of course, order must be kept but better use could have been made of the library if students had been aware that the library is not merely a study-hall but a place where service is available.

The library in constant use by students, is especially crowded around Semester Exam time.

SERVICES

Special Services this year were designed to help students with some of their activities or classes.

Mr. Mansour is a teacher on assignments, and is also sponsor for Student Government.

Mr. Travenia and Mrs. Siegler are responsible for P.E. equipment or whatever miscellaneous duties might turn up in the P.E. departments.

Mr. Day, head of Audio-Visual, trains boys in audio-visual and makes arrangements and appointments for films shown in classrooms.

These four people have contributed a large amount of energy in making student activities and classes more interesting and fun

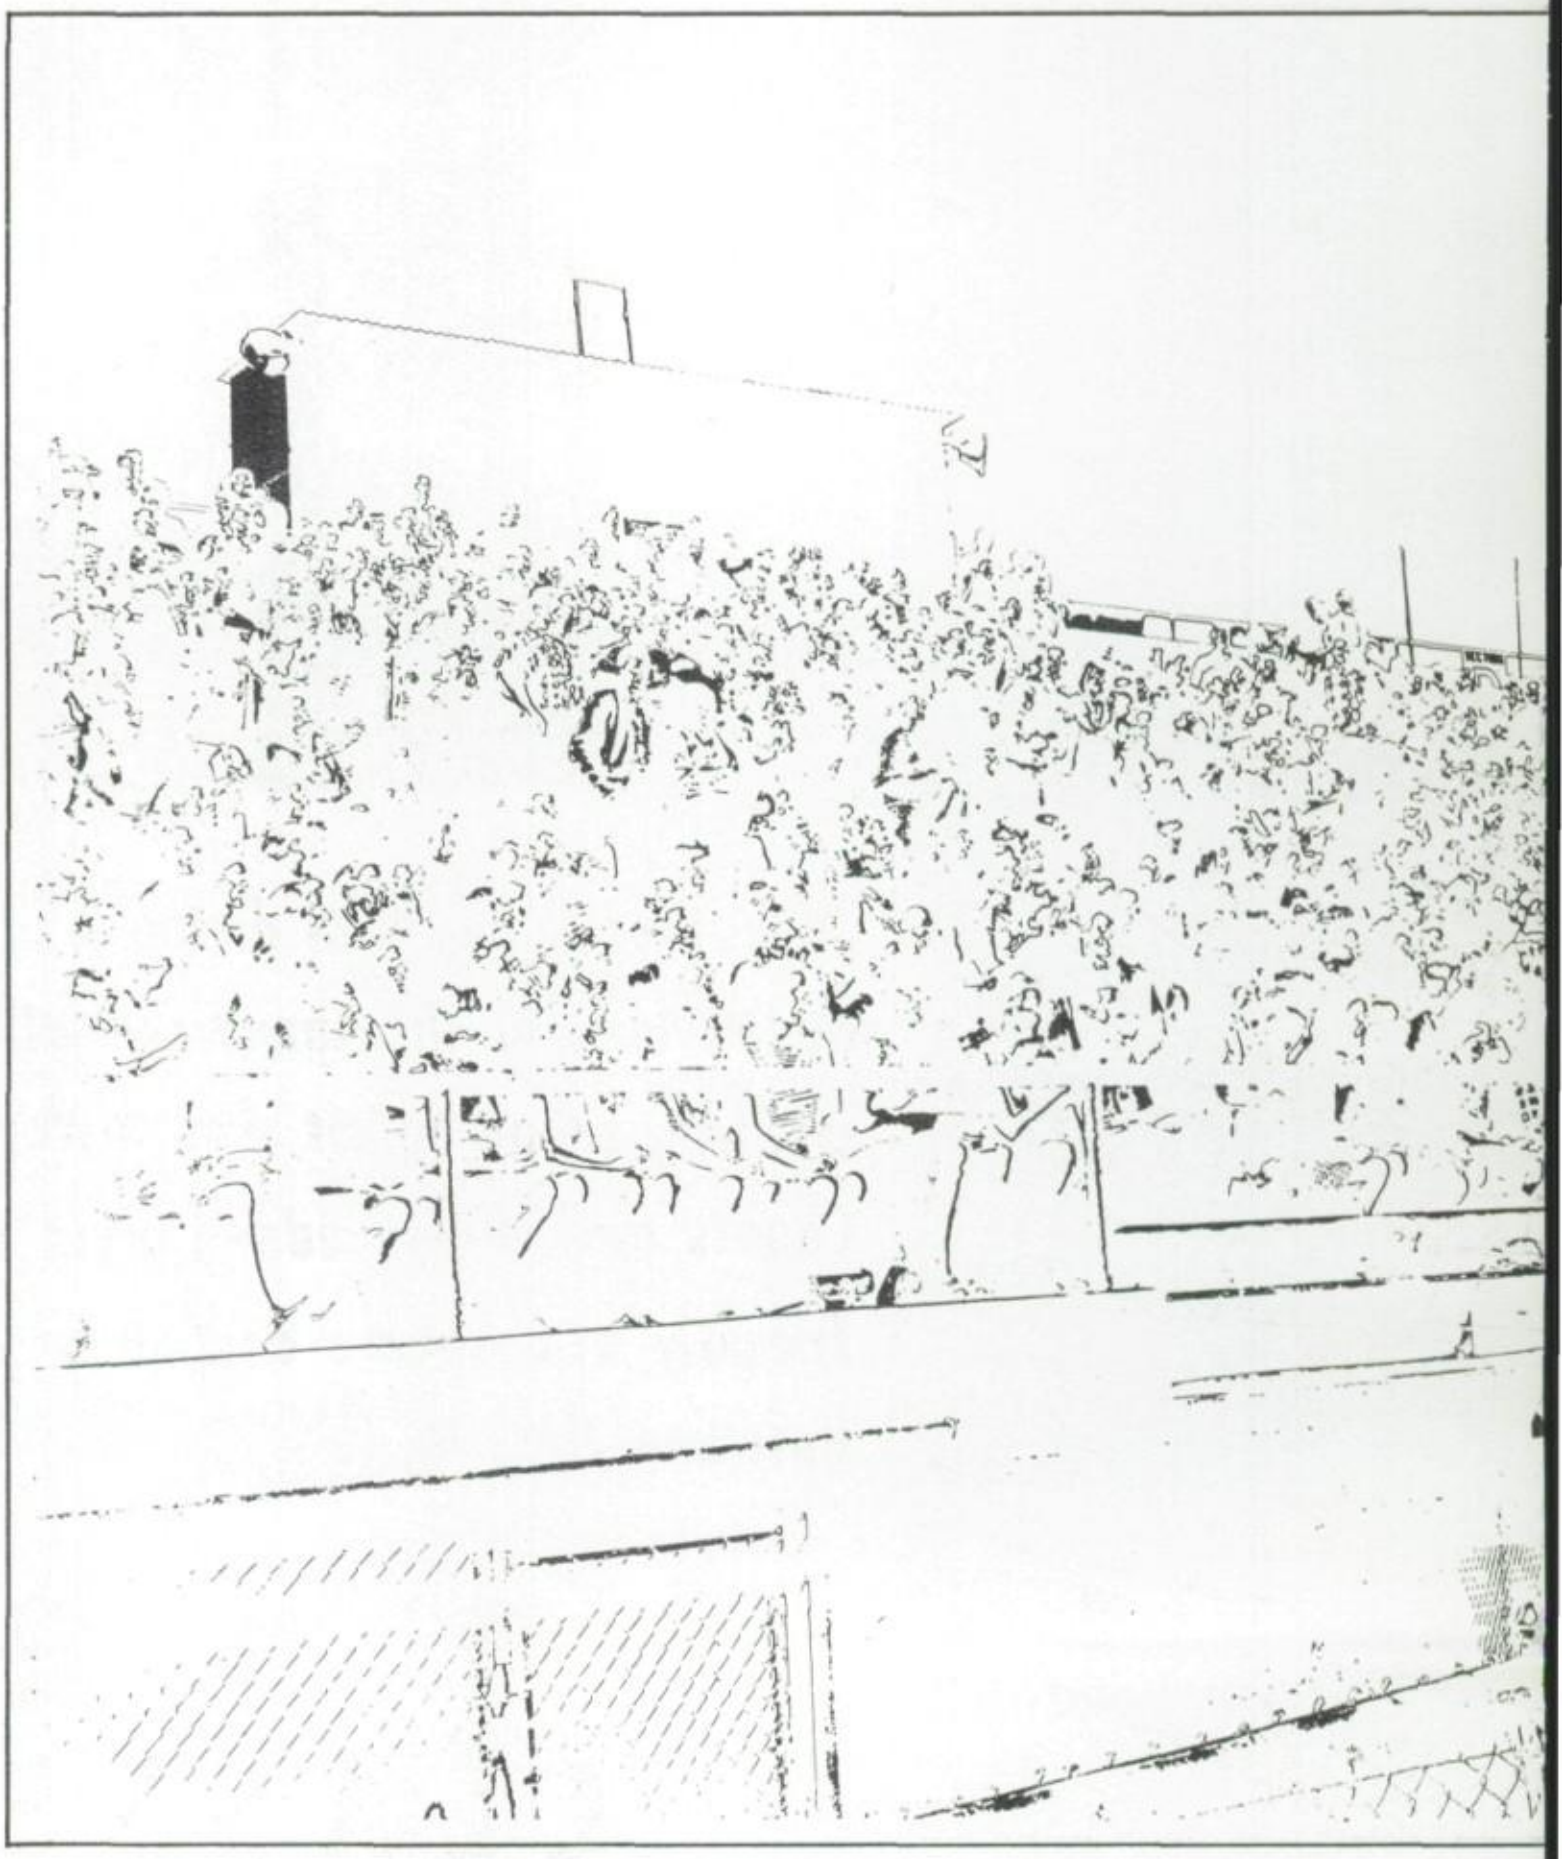
CAFETERIA

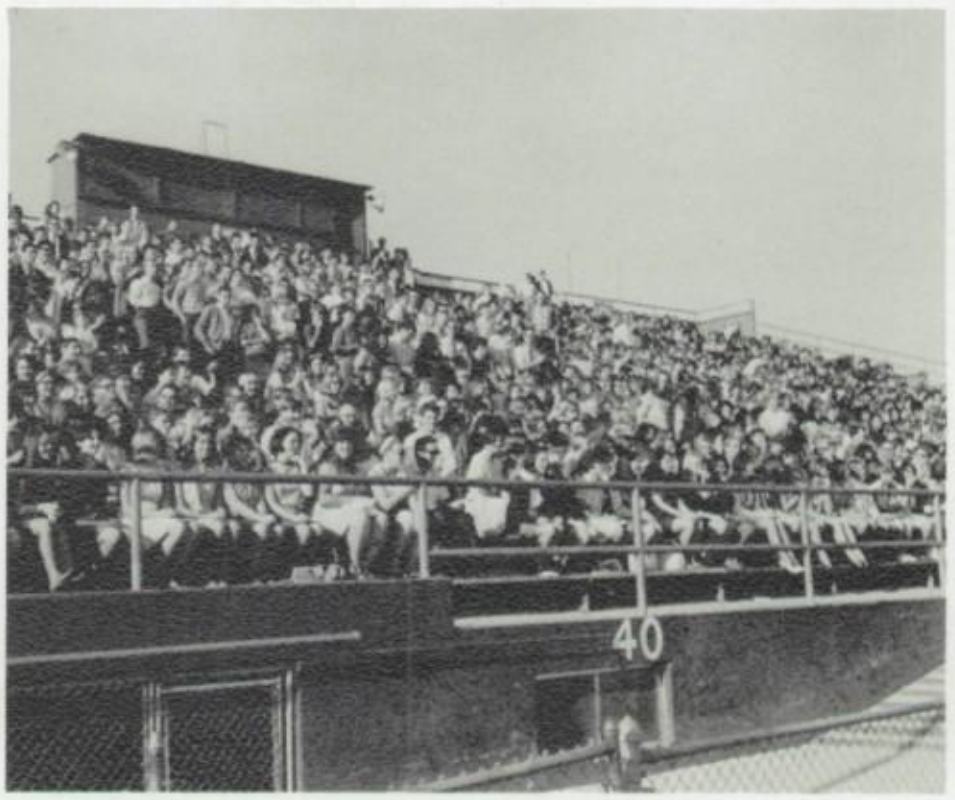
Working all day to plan and prepare nutritious meals, this crew has the monumentous task of feeding 2800 hungry students. They are: Left to right: Edith Brown, Carmen Brotherton, Doris Edwards, Arline Baril, Isabel Scott, Minnie Unger, Ann Donahue (chairman), Vadna Grubbs, Betty Pallas, Helen Bruno, June Nancarrow, Helen Keyes, Rachel Kusche, Rosemarie Phelps, Joyce Hogan, Frances Malloy, Lucille Crask, and Manuel Chavarrio.

MAINTENANCE

The night-time maintenance men are those indispensables which make our school liveable. This staff of 13 enables the daytime crew to function. They are: BACK ROW: E. R. Davis, Joseph Green, Ralph Gohn, Robert Gray, Brent Robles, Herb Roe, and Harold Maute. FRONT ROW: Eugene Hart, Ed Mason, Wilmer Sanders, Ervin Julian, William Robinson, and Bill Bailey.

Our daytime maintenance men take up where the night-time workers leave off. They're essential to the smooth operation of all the details involved in running our school during the day. These six men are: Jo Martin, Russell Morrison, Ted Wesley, Claude Visser, Harold Beck, and George Hay.





Wheather in the cool dimness at the auditorium, or the sunny warmth at the stadium, school spirit was always in evidence. Chants and cheers added much to the friendly atmosphere and air of competition between classes.

CLASSES

SENIORS

Standing tall and sitting pretty, President Dave Tempkin, Vice-President Bill Douglas, Treasurer Don Cummings, and Secretary Jacque Sutter were our Freshman Class officers. These creative and hard working officers gave the class of '68 a Freshman Year that will always be remembered.

See the funny freshman wave? This picture was taken at the Freshman Frolic, during the movie Tammy and the Millionaire. Maybe if you look close enough you'll see yourself.

Smiling and all new — here is the Freshman council representatives. Some important student leaders came from this bunch and you can see that Seniors weren't always on top.

The freshmen football team of '64 had a 7-1-1 record and topped all other city frosh squads. Most of these boys have made the Varsity team after suffering through long morning and evening practice.

REMEMBER WHEN

Six hundred freshmen have slowly climbed the long and sometimes agonizing class ladder to stand finally as stars at the top. Though on the bottom rung, these Freshmen managed to shine — if briefly — as the winners of the 1964 magazine sale.

As Sophomores they endured the Seniors and braved biology undaunted.

With two hard years behind them, they climbed the third rung to become, at last, upper-classmen. The Prom these Juniors planned and gave, won't be forgotten for various reasons. Onward they toiled through American History and Chemistry, but it was all worth it. Now as Seniors, they stand as the undisputed leaders at West High.

Girls met and discovered new friends through Girls' League when they were freshmen. As freshmen they held Christmas and Easter parties for the underprivileged and retarded.

PRESIDENT Larry Whiting

Seniors plan end of year activities

VICE PRESIDENT

Don Foutz

TREASURER

John Cochran

Backed by experience and a willingness to work, these students last year put up the fight that won them a place as officers in the Senior Class.

On a budget of $1400 they helped decide upon what gift to leave the school and paid for the Senior Dinner Dance and Ditch Day.

With loyalty and determination they've carried out their jobs and steered this class through their last and very important year as Seniors at West High.

SECRETARY

Denni Clement

President Larry Whiting and Secretary Denni Clement discuss ways of making the Senior Class one of the best and most successful in West's history.

According to the Yell-O-Meter, the Seniors were the most spirited class at West. Showing this spirit is the fact that 100% of the Homecoming Nominees were Seniors and all of the Student Body officers are Seniors.

Also being a very fair minded class they decided to let the Freshmen come in first in the magazine sale, while they gallantly took second place with $289.59.

During their last year at West the Senior Council had many big decisions to make — like deciding on a Senior gift, making plans for the Senior Dinner Dance, and Ditch Day. With the Senior Class Council organizing the activities, the class of '68 will have a neverforgotten graduation.

SPONSORS

Mrs. Carol Cambell and Mr. Don Johnson

Larry Whiting, President of Senior Class, introduces new ideas and projects to the Class Council.

Member of class council, John Bethal, Jerry Cochran, Richard Van Epps and John Cochran discuss some important matters concerning their class such as the gift they will present to West at the end of the year.

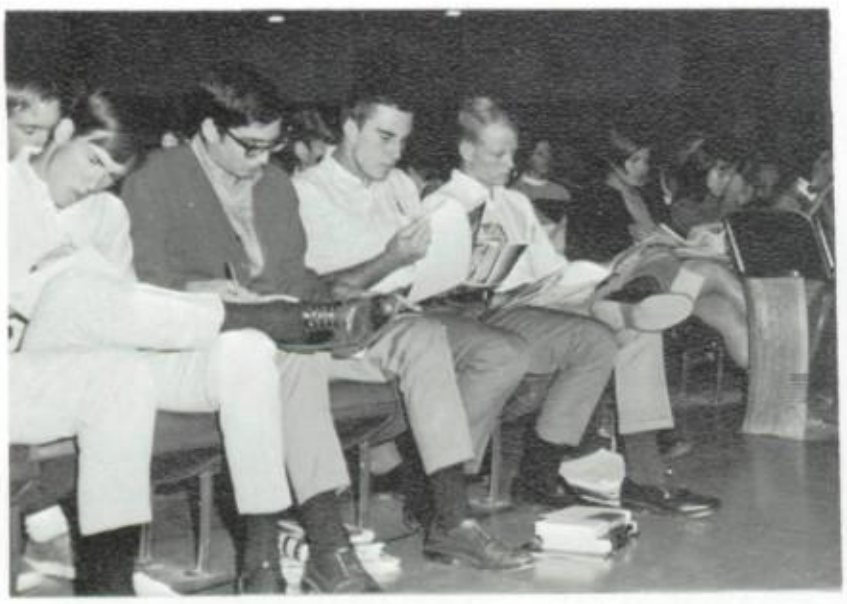
Four years of fun and hard work

"Yea Seniors!" Carolyn Adams and Nancy Vitek lead the student body with the help of the Spirit Can in a cheer — for Seniors!



"Smile pretty, Paul." It seems like Paul Metchik with his low voice was the only one who kept warm during the Barracuda Swim Show. Despite a group of freezing swimmers and observers the show was a big success.

Seniors listen intently to representatives from colleges all over the state, in an attempt to decide where it will be next year.

pay off---- Graduation!

While trying to balance her hoola-hoop, Penny Kurtz has some trouble with a soda cracker. Johnny Bethell extends a helping hand full of more crackers. They helped the Seniors come in second in the Junior Olympics.

"Hey, I thought this was supposed to be a private ballot?" Sherri Paquette seems really engrossed with all of the indecision of Homecoming voting.

Juniors

Under Gary Gorton's fine leadership, the Juniors once again had an outstanding year.

The Juniors main project this year was to collaborate a Prom. Vice-President Charlie Cross was in charge of this with the help of his chairmen, Kristie Erickson, Jan Yates, and Katie Muecke. With a treasury of $2,119.90 and some hard work, "Moonlight and Roses" held at the Townehouse on June 1st, was something special for everyone.

What would Homecoming have been without the many colored leis, another project of the Junior Class? Other money-making ideas were buttons for basketball, a carwash, and a Rummage sale.

Sophomores

Under the best of leadership, the Sophomore Class has had a memorable year. Through the sale of beanies and candy apples, these sophomores have worked to bring up the sum of their somewhat depleted treasury. They sponsored a dance, sold class buttons, and got up early on Saturday mornings to wash cars — showing a spirit that has helped place them second in class competition. They work for others with the same remarkable spirit as they do for themselves — they sold "Lilies for Leo" at Easter and donated all profits to the Easter Seal Foundation. These and other projects show a get-up-and-go that promises a good future.

President Lance Cypert, Vice-President Diane Young, Secretary Kathy Wallace, and Treasurer Pete Lohbeck worked to organize and coordinate the activities of their second year at West.

Though it's the first time around for these officers, President Mike Feeney, Secretary Mary Pierson, and Treasurer Mark Cochran prove capable leaders of the Freshman Class.

Freshmen

Lead by President Mike Feeney, these Freshmen haven't stayed at the bottom for long. Hard work has been their theme and it has brought them to the top in two important events. They won first place for their float at our Homecoming game and got out to sell more magazines than each of the upper classes by netting $393.16. But they didn't quit here; the work went on. They sold Christmas suckers at two of our basketball games and sponsored a great dance in January. Also, later in the year they sponsored a carwash and through this all, they've kept up their spirit promising bigger and better things for the years to come.

Two new Freshmen express mixed emotions about our All-School Mixer. One of them seems raring to go, while the other seems a little hesitant, as was the case with most Freshmen during the early weeks of school.

"So this is what high school is like!" These Freshmen girls stand in the hall watching the action during the Freshmen Orientation day on September 1.

Doubtful Freshmen remain unsure whether to sit or stand as the Cheerleaders do "Two bits". Some of the brave ones got up and cheered while the more shy members sat still with sheepish grins.

Liz -
I haven't seen too much of you this year - But we just have to get together this summer! Call me my phone number is 277-1755 - love

Melanie

Gathering in the Quad for a tug-of-war, meeting in the cafeteria, and participating in assemblies, were just a few of the favorite pastimes of our 'lively' student body

LIFE

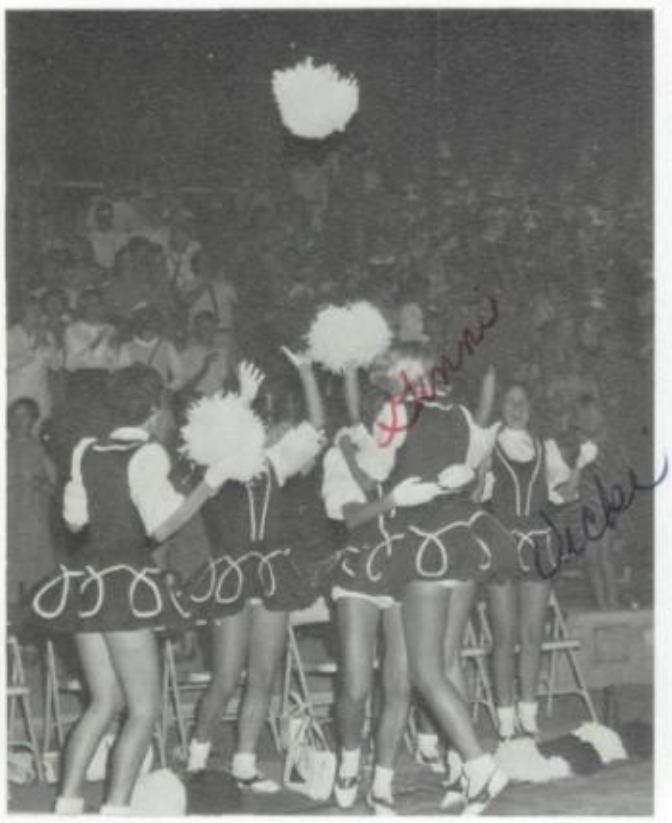
Liz,
Even though I don't know you too well I think you're really great. You were great in the skit. Be good this summer (Hard to do) + lots of luck always + always.

Love,
Vicki

SEPTEMBER

1st — Freshman Orientation
8th — Intrasquad Football Game, All School Mixer
12th — Girls' League Assembly
15th — Varsity Football: West 31, Kofa 0
22nd — Varsity Football: West 54, East 6
23rd — Freshman Swim Day
29th — Varsity Football: West 35, Central 0

Mr. Schoolland, along with all the other heads of our school, attempt to explain how our school ticks to a bunch of confused freshmen.

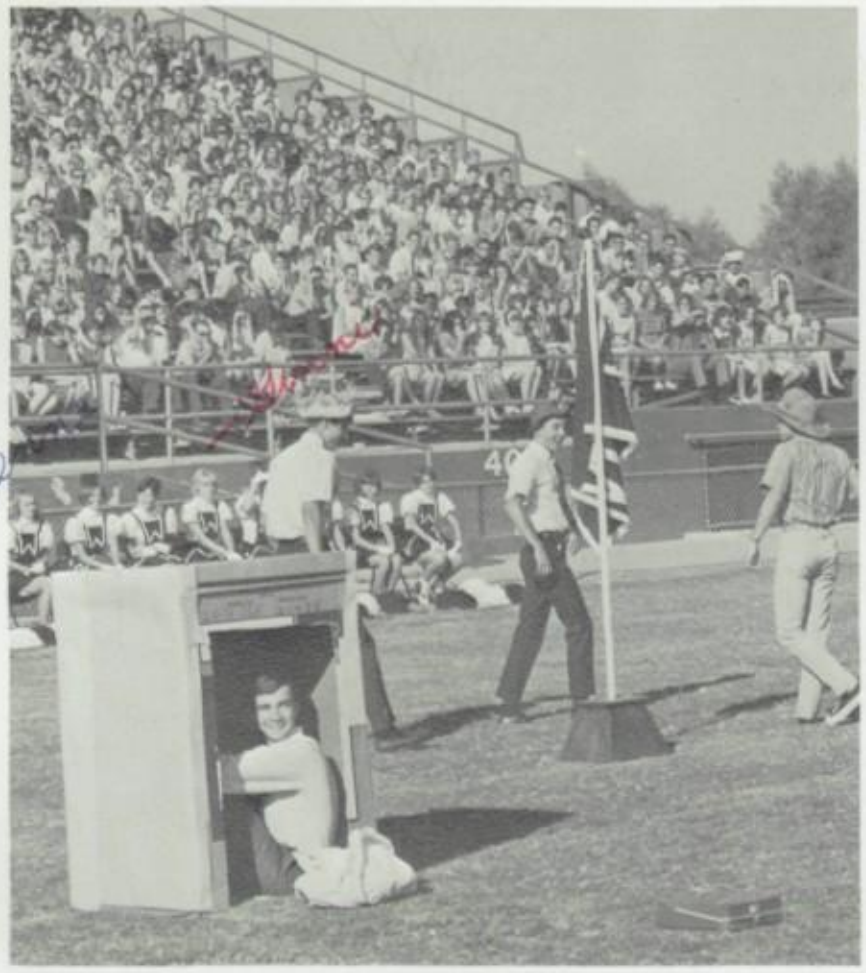


So much excitement exploded at the Central game that a loaded Pom got away. Our team led us on to victory once again.

Cheerleaders Valorie, Ginger, and Penny give these Freshmen their first sample of school spirit at the Orientation Assembly. "Boys, you'll have to show more enthusiasm than that if you want to get Most Spirited Class."

These freshmen girls get their first taste of West High food during Freshman Orientation. "Don't worry girls, after four years you get used to it!"

In order to earn enough money for the long-dreamed of California trip, Quill & Scroll had car washes, and car washes, and car washes! President Jan Spore, Judy Yates, and Jim Christen work very laboriously to earn their dollar per car.



Ever wonder why Seniors always win at the Yell-O-Meter?? Vice President Rob Mariani helps show who is the most spirited class.

Rob Bourne helps John Wells ring the bell of victory during the Cortez Pep Assembly. It was just the trick because we won 14-12!

Top — Judy McCoy is extending a hearty welcome to all old and new Girls' Leaguers. Looks like she's adding a little soft shoe to make them feel more welcome. "It can't be all that bad, Molly!"
Bottom — The first year of the Big Sister-Little Sister program proved successful in introducing Freshmen girls to Girls' League. Debby Hett and Bev Kesler are explaining what it's all about to their Little Sisters.

These sneaky Freshmen are caught in the act of stealing a brownie from Senior Jackie Short at the Annual Freshman Swim Day. (They're only free if you're a senior—.")

OCTOBER

6th — Varsity Football: West 14, Cortez 12
10th — Girls' League Puff and Pant Prom
13th — Freshman Election Assembly
14th — Senior Day at U of A
20th — Student Government Assembly, Varsity Football: West 30, P.U. 12
21st — Girls' League Semi 'Once Upon A Time'
24th — Open House
27th — Homecoming Assembly Varsity Football: West 6, Alhambra 0

Jim Kopchak is just one of the students who voted for our Homecoming Royalty. "Hey Jim, who are you voting for?"

TOP — The Chosen Ten — Homecoming Nominees express happiness, surprise, and in some cases disbelief. BOTTOM — Juniors cheer and yell to show their class spirit, while "the great class" Seniors remain seated.

Mr. Schoolland gets ready to go on a lion hunt with all the necessary equipment — a gun, a hat, and a brave heart wishing the team good luck against Alhambra.

Polynesian Theme Sets

Larry Whiting gulps his hula punch while the rest of our class presidents Mike Feeney, Lance Cypert, and Gary Gorton play it fair with their straws.

Janice Plotkin and Rae Falbo from the Traditions Committee give us some facts about previous Alhambra games. The Sportscaster and his Football Star knew what they were talking about because we won 6-0.

The Pom line helps entertain the Student Body with another one of their great dances — with an added attraction of the traditionally borrowed letter sweaters.

This original (?) float presented by the Freshman Class was judged the Best Class float.

Mood For Homecoming

Disbelief crosses the faces of this Royal pair, Queen Cindy Champagne and King Ken Schaub as they walk the red carpet back to the cheering crowd.

Under the direction of Jackie Short, chairman of the Activities Committee, our Homecoming was a great success. Evaluation sheets covering all of Homecoming Week gave first hand knowledge of what was liked or disliked by the student body concerning Homecoming. For instance, students were unanimous in their approval of sitting with their respective class at the assembly.

After much deliberation concerning a theme, Polynesian Splendor was chosen because of the wide variety and color it offered.

The traditional Junior Olympics held during all three lunches during Homecoming Week was well attended. With all four classes participating the most points were accredited, strangely enough, to the Juniors, but the Seniors held a very close second.

After a suspense-filled first half in our game with Alhambra, the crowning of Queen Cindy Champagne and King Ken Schaub finally arrived. This royal pair was elected preferentially from among twenty nominees, with an amazing 45% of the student body voting.

The Homecoming dance with the Red, White, and Blues band playing was sponsored by Student Government. This dance capped the end of a victorious and memorable Homecoming Week.

Hanging by the stars! Paula Akey and Pam Mariani add the magic touch to make the Semi, "Once Upon A Time," a fabulous dance.

Doris Short and Gary Stephens relive the "bop" at the Girls' League Semi formal.

"Ah, very funny fellow!" But Paul Metchik proves to be a hard working chairman of the elections committee.

Keeping his voice down in gentler terms and away from the football field, Mr. Don Johnson talks to American History parents at Open House. Could he be describing the more interesting parts of his class — like the Jelly Bean Law?

Under the influence of our Victory Flag, Dennis Davis, Ken Schaub, and Dan White discuss the prospects of the Cortez game and encourage student support.

Mark Cochran surveys the "beauties" that helped him win as Freshmen Class Treasurer and wonder what he ever would have done without them.

"Well folks, here I am!" Lance Cypert, Sophomore Class President, introduces himself and his class to the Student body while everybody else just laughs!

New members of the Girls' Letter Club scrub the T-Bird with toothbrushes, but those Frosh footprints present quite a challenge.

Seniors take time out from their busy schedule to ponder about their future, as they listen(?) to representatives from Phoenix College.

NOVEMBER

3rd — Teachers Convention — State Fair Varsity Football: West 7, Carl Hayden 12

10th — Varsity Football: West 0, Camelback 6
14th — G.A.A. Mother-Daughter Activity Night
17th — Varsity Football: West 34, North 0
20th — Assembly — Flair Fashion Show
22nd — Football Divisionals
30th — Barracuda TV Water Show

Pete Van Dyke a waitress, like the sign says, joins fellow friends Ken Schaub and Don Cummings in helping to serve at the Father-Daughter Banquet. Hey boys — watch it — looks like Mr. Siegel's giving you the evil eye.

Little Dolly Davidson wears her mini skirt and new fall for the first time at the banquet sponsored by Dads' Club. All waitresses were courtesy of Key Club.

The last of the Rag Time Bands. Fellow musicians are: Jim Marks, Lance Cypert, Robin McCool, and John Naegle. These boys helped jazz up our Central Pep Assembly.

'You Can't Take It With You'

The Drama Department decided to present for the all school play, the comedy "You Can't Take It With You," written by Haufman & Hart.

They had the responsibility of scrounging up costumes, building the sets, and memorizing their parts. With the extra effort of the 78 cast and crew members, under the advice and direction of Miss Marilee Long, the play was presented in 4 weeks.

It is the story of the vivacious and fun-loving Sycamore family, whose daughter, Alice, planned to marry Tony Kirby, from a rich high society family. The way the Sycamore family shows the Kirbys that life can be fun and carefree is what gives this story its funny, heartwarming comedy.

The play was presented in the West High Auditorium November 2, during school, and Saturday, November 4. Students and parents alike enjoyed the comedy, attracting one of the largest crowds ever with 678 tickets sold.

Christmas Holiday Begins

A flooded quad and rainy weather makes for disappointed students anxiously waiting for Christmas vacation.

Yes, Club Day finally came to the Quad, after several unsuccessful attempts! Most of the West High clubs were represented in an effort to build up membership and participation in clubs.

Christmas, the prettiest and happiest time of year is found in our lobby with a 13 ft. Christmas tree, decorated by Special Events Committee of Student Council.

This was one of our most successful Christmas family drives. There was a very good effort shown with Reg rooms adopting a family from the 33 Salvation Army sponsored families. Some Reg rooms even adopted families not represented by Salvation Army. $286.60 was collected along with food, clothing and toys for the individual families.

Ingenuity and hard work on the part of Cindy Chandler, Vicki Hallabrin, Cathy Lauebach and Cindy Canterbury paid off, as Room 238 was judged the Most Humorous in the Christmas door-decorating contest.

With the gym transformed into a "Joyeux Noel", 100 couples enjoyed the decorations and danced to Tommy Reed and His band. Nancy Vitek was crowned Christmas Queen and Denni Clement, Senior, Maureen Feeney, Junior, Norma Jean Strickland, Sophomore, Barbara Stanley, Freshman, were her attendants.

Faithful members of Key Club arrive early on Saturday morning to work on an igloo as part of the decorations. Notice the intent expressions on their faces! !

School play: 'The Miracle Worker'

West High's dramatics department gained considerable notice with the production of William Gibson's play, The Miracle Worker.

The unusual split-level set teamed with the many authentic costumes, definitely gave a realistic effect to the entire play. And behind the scenes, the light director and the sound manager carried out the extremely difficult and important job of moving the characters and the audience through time, space, and emotion.

Of course, no play can be a success without the cooperation and hard work of actors. For five weeks every night after school, and many of the intervening Saturdays too, these students met in West High's auditorium and worked hard at correcting and improving the memorization of blocking and lines. The sixth week was devoted to building interpretation and meaning into every aspect of the play.

Miss Marilee Long is to be congratulated on the confidence and patience with which she directed both cast and crew in the production of this difficult piece.

FOOTBALL

Ken Schaub (44) breaks the "run through" as the team returns to start the second half of the Phoenix Union game. Cindy Champagne and Gwen Lindstrom cheer the rest of the team on. West downed P.U. to the tune of 30-12.

The dangers of football — someone biting your foot. Tom Crandall (10) strikes a poetic pose as he cuts back looking for a block from senior Don Cummings (22). That's a Cortez tackler watching all the action go by. West tipped Cortez 14-12.

Wayne Brown and Dan Williams receive Arizona All - State honor

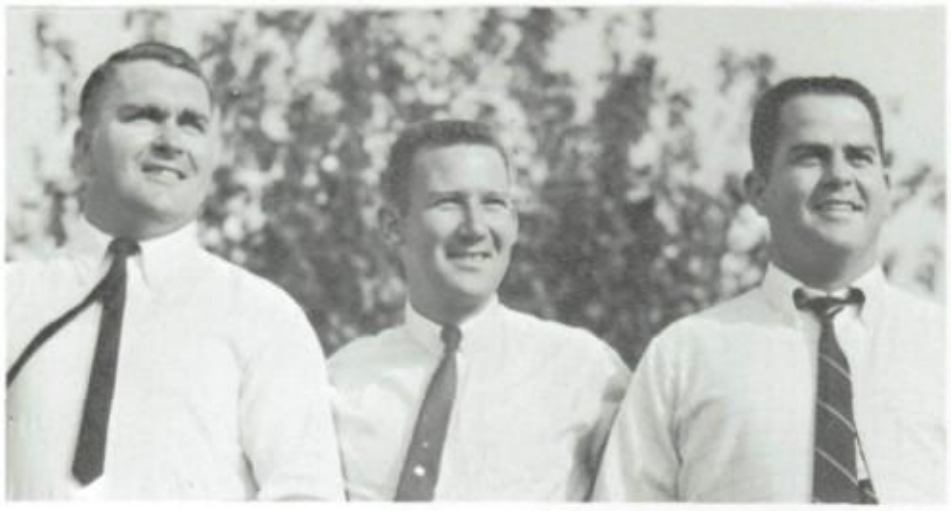
The determination to win, the efforts of individuals working for the success of the team, and the challenge of competition are essential for an outstanding football team. The West High Thunderbirds had all these qualities in posting a 7-3 record this season. The cooperation of the offense and defense helped West score 230 points while defense held the opponents to 69 points.

West's powerful running back Dan White rushed for a total of 637 yards — almost half of the team's total rushing yardage. Chuck Price, Gary Shaw, and Dan Williams put up a strong defense by totaling 132 tackles between them.

Receiving the honors of the All-State team was Dan Williams, voted by the Arizona Republic and the Daily Star as offensive and defensive tackle, and also Wayne Brown, voted by the Arizona Republic as All-State guard. All conference kicker was awarded to Luis Vega. The Jim Edwards Memorial Award, the highest honor any football player could receive, was awarded to Dan White as an outstanding player.

Get him Luis! Luis Vega (23) moves up to take a Central Bobcat out of action, so Don Cummings can have a little running room. Moving up to assist is John Jasso (65). West toppled Central 35-0.

VARSITY COACHES



Pooling their knowledge, ability, and talent these Varsity Coaches were responsible for the outstanding team they fielded this year. Head Coach Don Bicknell is surrounded by his assistants, coaches Bob Widmer and Marty Shepard.

FULLBACKS

Led by the running of Ken Schaub, these men turned in a fine performance. BACK ROW: Mitch Patalano, Dave Morrison, and Ken Schaub. FRONT ROW: Mark Godfrey, Dan Otis, and Robert Thompson.

T-Bird spirit boosts Varsity

"Wait a minute," that's what end John Wick of Maryvale seems to say as West High Gary Shaw (60) closes in for the tackle. Despite fine playing West lost this game 21-19.

QUARTERBACKS

Calling the signals for our team this year were two fine quarterbacks, John Carpenter and Tom Crandall. Senior Tom Crandall finished his high school season with a 40% pass completion record.

HALFBACKS

ENDS

TACKLES

If you have a football in your hands, don't run into these tacklers. BACK ROW: Dan Williams, Wayne Brown, Ralph O'Rear, and Chuck Price. FRONT ROW: Greg Gallagher, Larry Carlson, and John Yeoman. Dan Williams was made All-State offensive and defensive tackle and Wayne Brown got All-State guard.

to an overwhelming 7-3 season

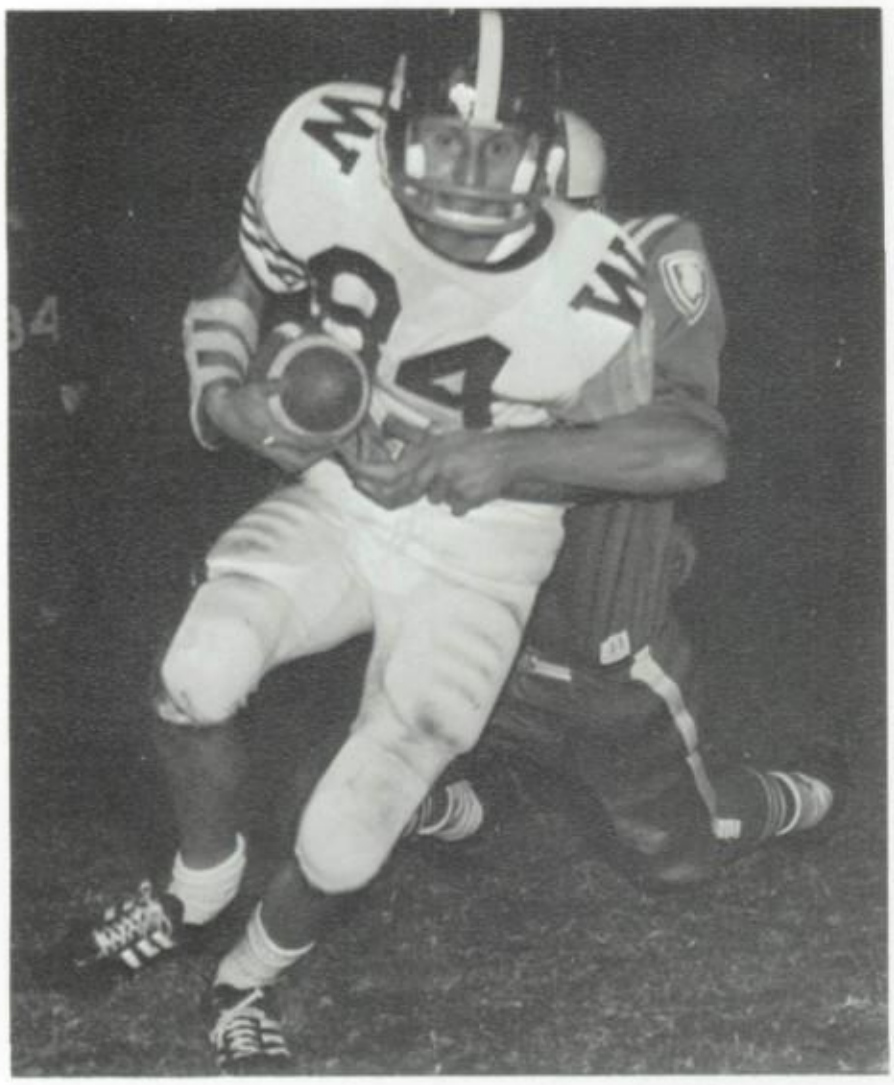
There's Thor inciting spirit, that made this season so great. End, "end of the bench" Ken Karpinski is waiting his turn to help West

CENTERS

Jim Kopchak along with the other centers did a great job of starting each play. Jim Callahan, Jim Kopchak, Dave Black, and Gary Parsell.

GUARDS

Opening up defensive lines for our running backs were these guards. BACK ROW: Paul Jones, Terry Phelps, ohn JJasso, and Gary Shaw. FRONT ROW: Victor Boucher, Pat Collins, and Mike Foose.



Chris Miller (84) will smile for a camera even if he's being tackled. Chris didn't have a good reason to smile after the Camelback game — we lost 6-0!

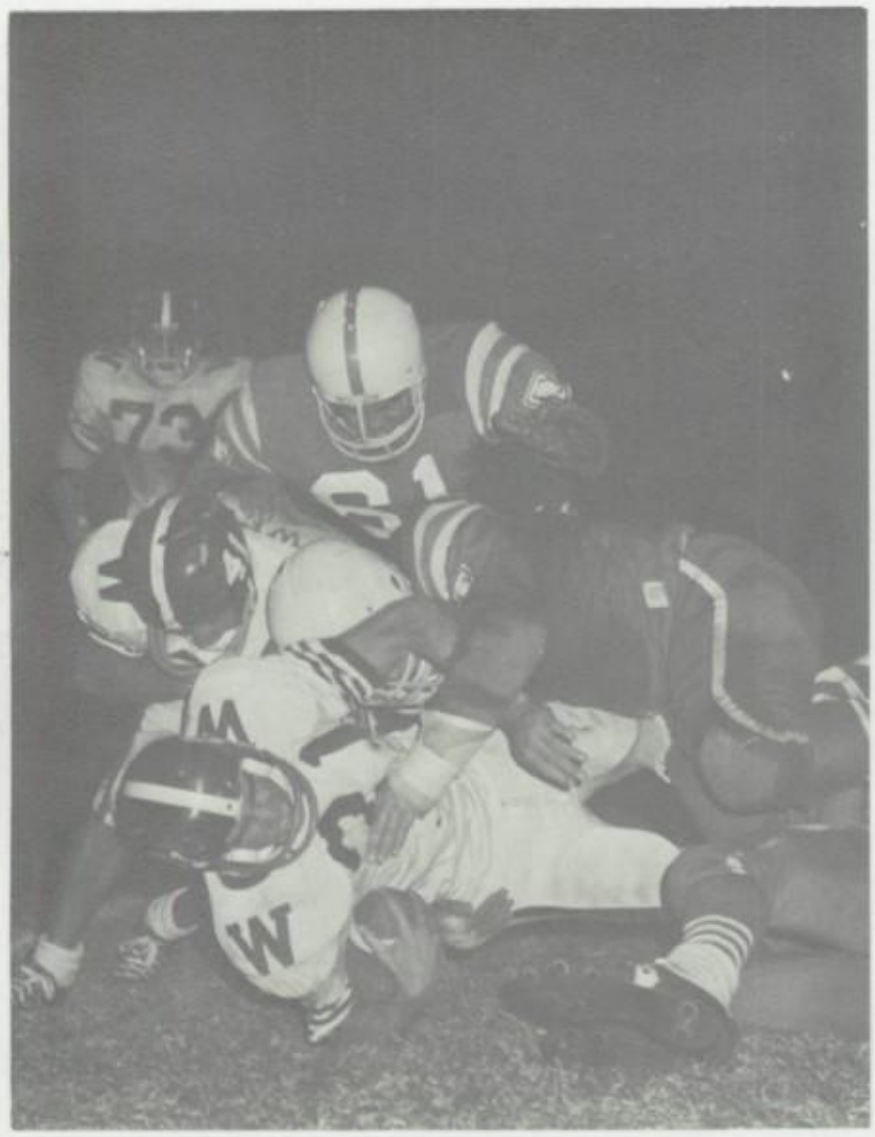
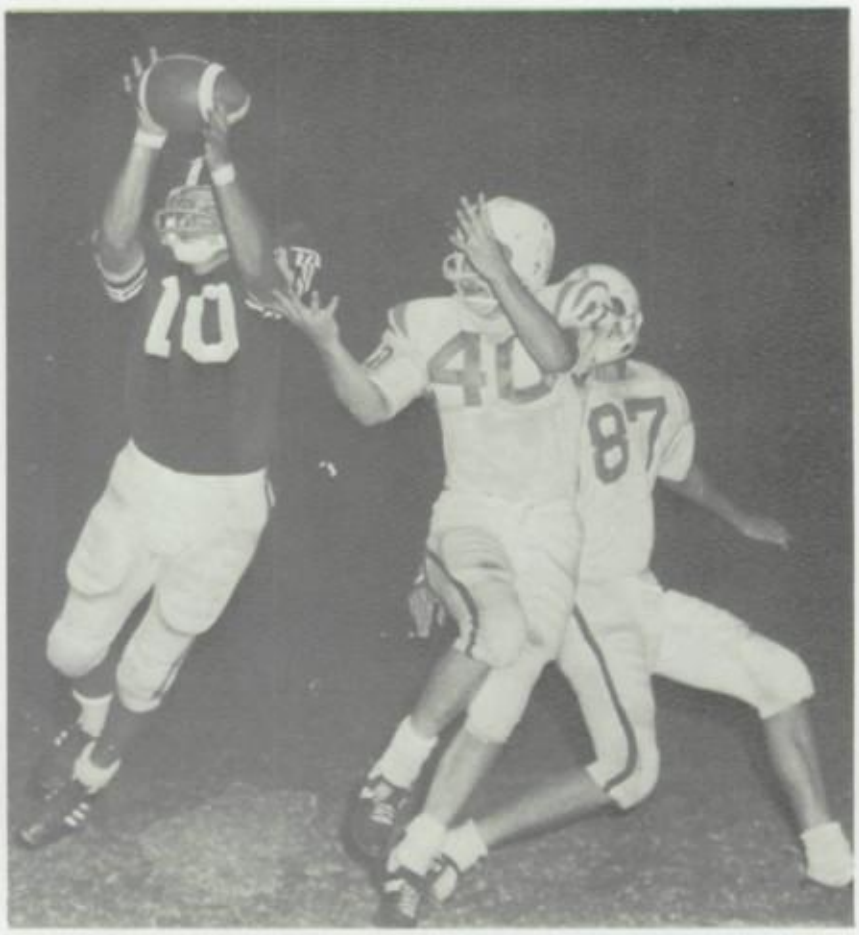
Tom Crandell (10) releases a pass just in time as a mob of Central tacklers move in for the kill. Following the action is Wayne Brown (73) and Dan Williams (75). West scored in their win of the season by dropping the Bobcats 35-0.

"Let's hang onto what we've got!" sings Jim Kopchak (51) as Terry Evans (40) of Camelback keeps on running. Camelback handed West a defeat of 6-0 that eliminated it from divisional championship.



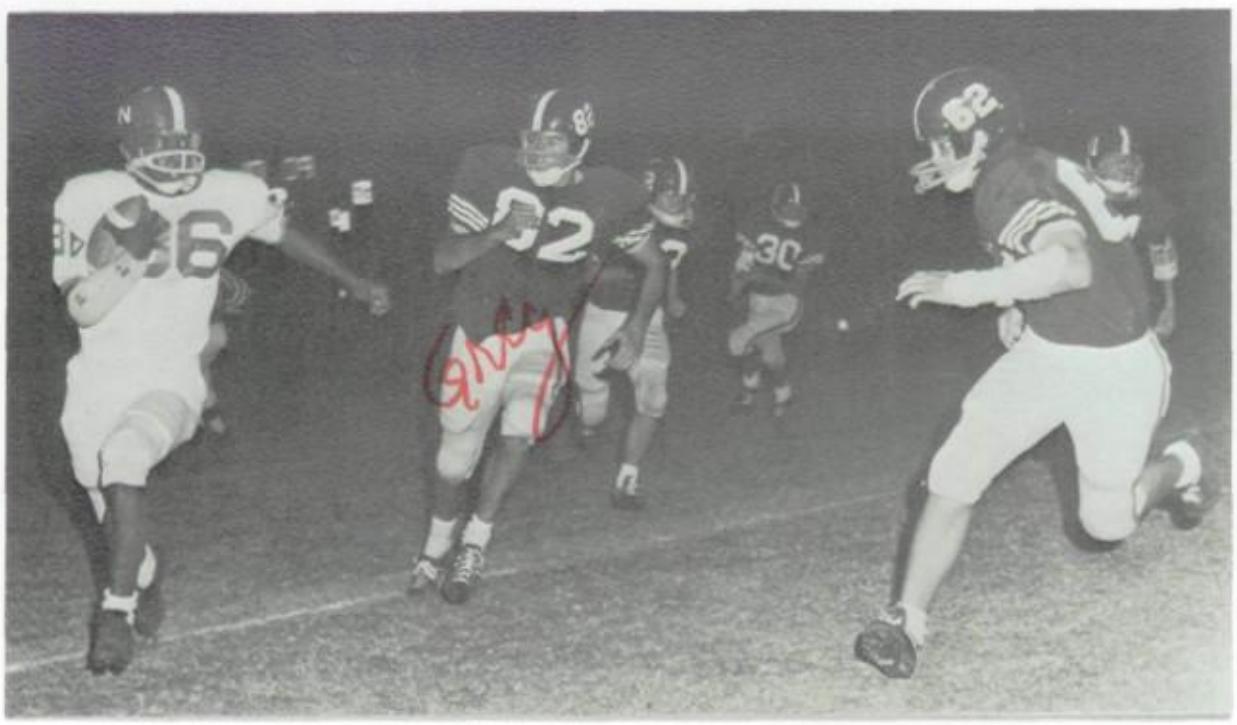
The only trouble with this "dog pile" is that Dan White (21) is at the bottom. With Camelback players all around Dan doesn't have a chance. Mark Godfrey (41) tries a shove as Wayne Brown (73) moves in from behind.



"Come to mama." Tom Crandall (10) intercepts a pass from the waiting arms of Ed Hall (40) and George Poteet (87) of East. West smashed East 54-6.

"Hi there!" John Carpenter (11) tries to outrun a determined-looking Central tackler as an unidentified West player moves up to lay a block. West went on to romp the Bobcats 35-0.

Dave Morrison (43) brings an end to a Maryvale play as he drops Dan Bates (40) of Maryvale. The Panthers handed West their first loss of 12-19.



Running out of room is Ron Turner's problem. The North High end is about to be dropped by Pat Collins (62) and Greg Tope (82). Trailing the action is Mike Foose (12), Mitch Patalano (30), and Mark Godfrey (41). West closed a fine season by dropping the Mustangs 34-0.

"Give me a hand!" That's what Ken Karpinski (81) is trying to do as Steve White (21) is hauled down from behind by a Maryvale Panther. West lost its number one rating by losing 19-21.

Mark Godfrey (41) dives in for West's only touchdown against the Carl Hayden Falcons. Opening a hole in the line is Dan Williams (75), Jim Kopchak (51), Gary Shaw (60), and quarterback John Carpenter (11). West lost a heart-breaker 12-7.

Tom Crandall (10) goes around the end only to find trouble in the form of two Cortez tacklers. Following the action are Don Cummings (22), Jim Kopchak (51), and Ken Schaub (44). West slipped by Cortez 14-12.

JUNIOR VARSITY

Turning in a 4-4-2 record, these Junior Varsity players gained valuable experience and knowledge for next years season. (See Activities Index for identification.)

Afternoon Players Win 11 Games

Gaining valuable experience with each game, the Junior Varsity prepared for their Varsity debut. Coached by Don Johnson and Mike Starbuck, the team started slow but gained momentum toward the end of the season. At one time the team only had 23 men, a hardship that they overcame with a 4-4-2 record.

The team's leading rushers were Todd Housholder and Bob Jenson. Coach Starbuck said, "Their playing as a team improved greatly over the season."

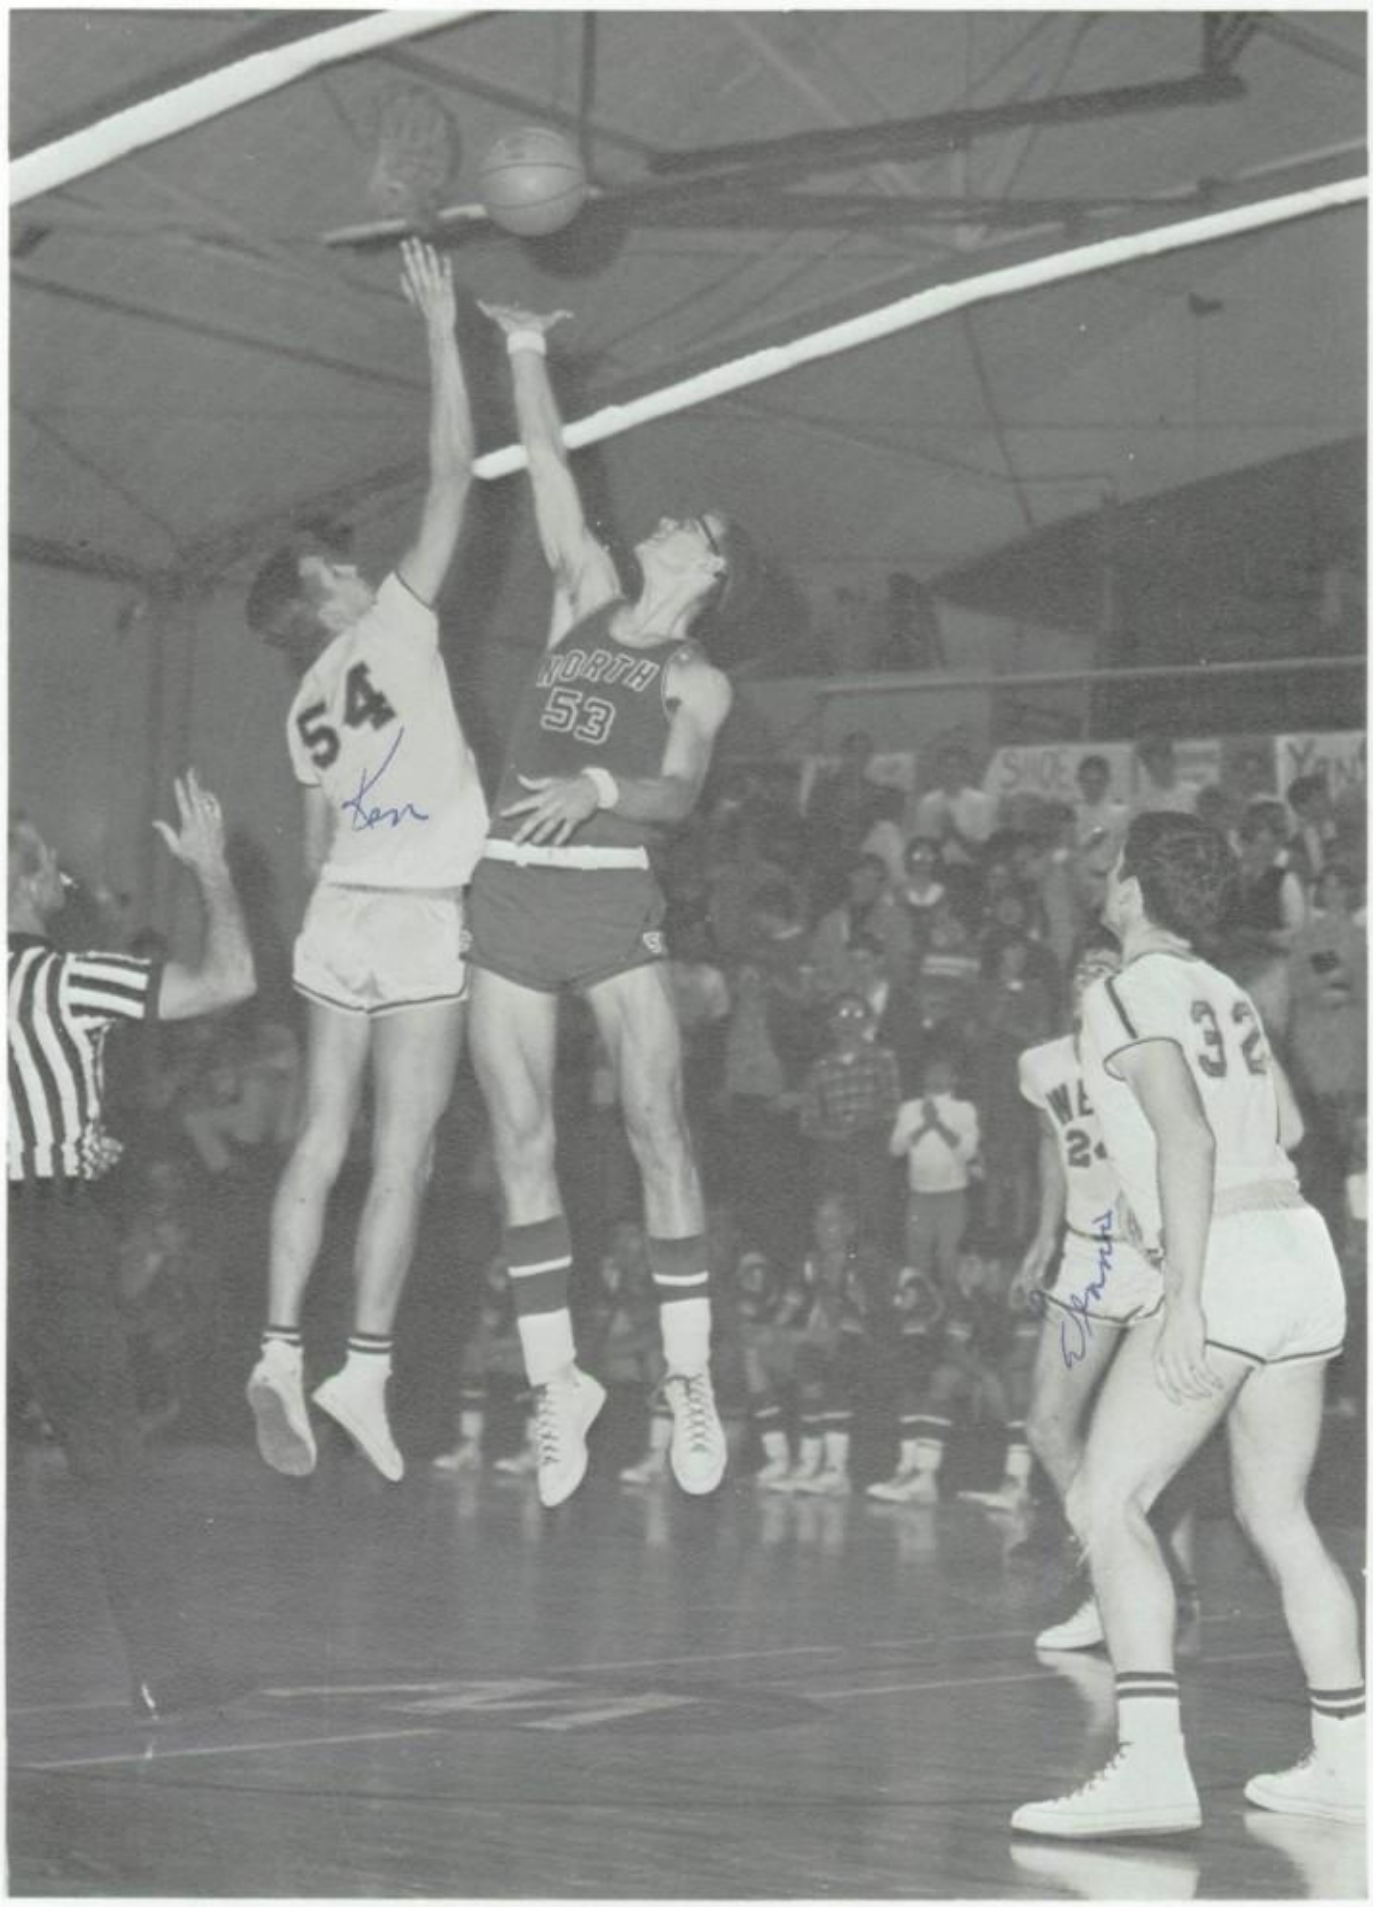
Coached by Coaches Bob Fitzgerald and Ed Ranshaw, the Freshman A team turned in a 4-5 season. Cameron Shields received the Head Hunter Award. (See Activities Index for identification.)

Watching and waiting anxiously are a pair of coaches and a bench of hopefuls. Coaches Fitzgerald and Ranshaw watch the action during a Freshman A football game as a group of first year gridders wait for a chance to play.

FRESHMAN B

Under the direction of Coach Ljubicich, the Freshman B team's only disappointments were three forfeits. The teams receiving these forfeit wins were Washington, Central, and Maryvale. The freshmen posted a 3-7 season.



BASKETBALL

"Here, you take it!" A North player hands the ball over after being surrounded by West T-Birds. West topped the Mustangs 67-60.

Season ends with 13 - 10 record

With a seasonal record of 13-10, West finished second in the Divisional only behind State champ Phoenix Union. Using the "under the basket" shooting of Ken Karpinski and Dave Morrison plus the field shooting of Dennis Schaub, this trio alone scored 785 points. Strong team work became evident as the T-Bird five started off slow and then won five in a row to post a winning season of 13-10.

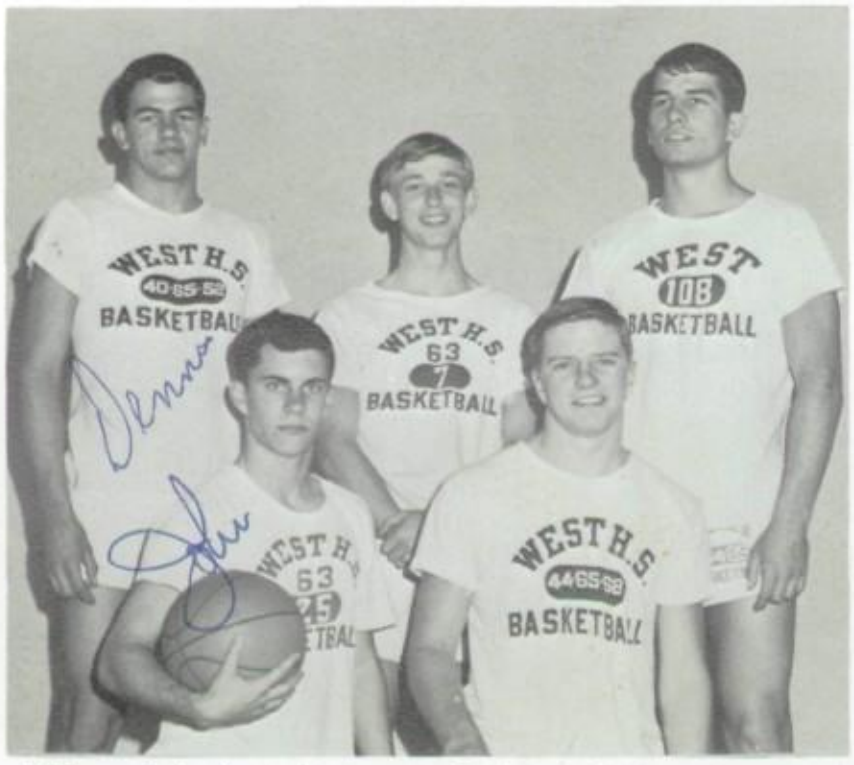
First's were the rule rather than the exception this year. A number of players entered the record books for their fine performances. Ken Karpinski left his indelible name in the record books for grabbing more rebounds in one season than anyone has in 19 years. He also became the highest scoring center for a three year period, this also goes back to 1949. Dave Morrison also entered the record books and became the 9th highest scorer since 1949. Dave also became the 7th best rebounder in one year period since 1949.

Large and well spirited crowds were at all the games showing the true West High spirit. The 1967-68 basketball season is one that will be remembered by players and students alike.

Strong team effort leads West

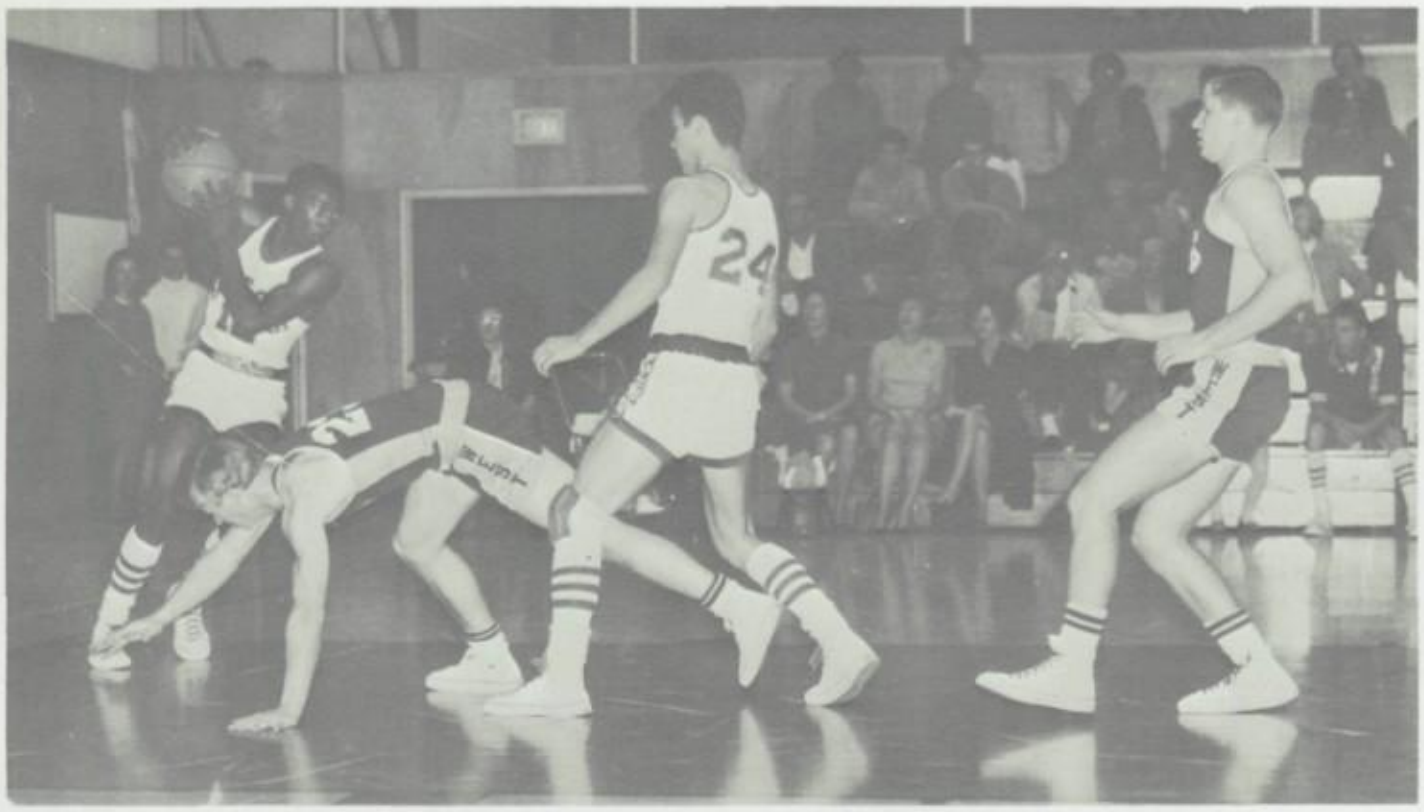
This year Coach Roche had two senior centers that both entered their names in the record book. Dave Morrison became the 9th highest scorer since 1949 and Ken Karpinski became the best rebounder over a one year period since 1949.

Paced by the strong shooting of Bill Pellet, these five men played forward for this year's team. These men filled out the forward line in a noteworthy manner.



This year's back court men proved to be great play makers and scorers. Dennis and Ken Schaub alone accounted for 299 points. Strong performances turned in by all five members accounted for a winning season of 13-10.

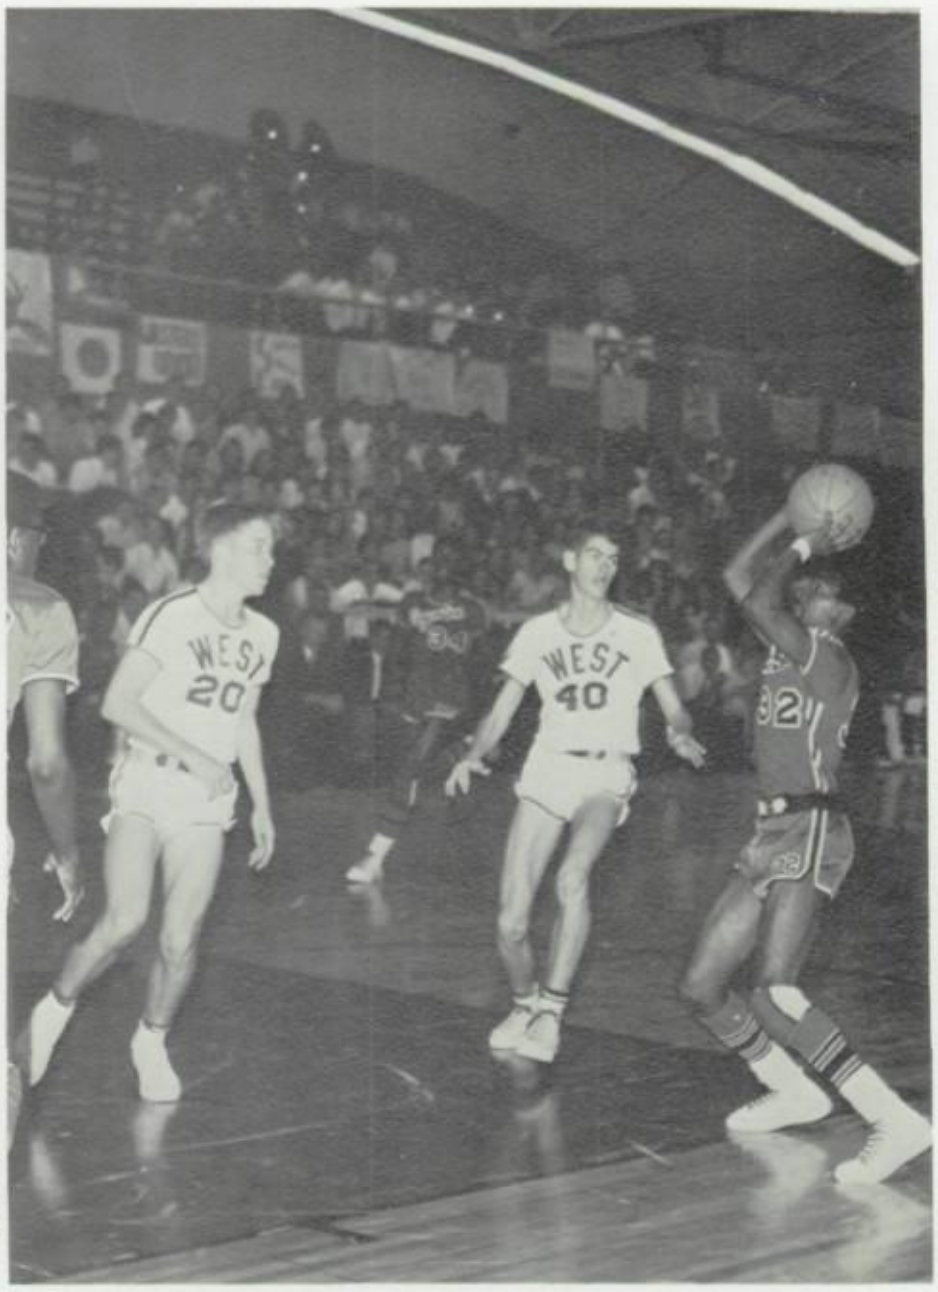
"Tip it to a T-Bird" Ken Karpinski goes against a North High Mustang in an attempt to tip the play to West. Dennis Schaub follows the ball and is ready to move on the play.



"Hey man, this is my ball!" Steve Million tries getting the ball while on all fours. Tom Crandall covers another Falcon opponent. The T-Birds stopped the Falcons 61-51.

to first in league; second in division

For once it looks like Ken Karpinski (54) doesn't want this rebound. Champion rebounder Karpinski passed this one up as out of bounds. West lost to Phoenix Union 56-94.



Closing in for a block is Dan Kelly (20) and Bob Wright (40). West put up a losing battle to the Coyotes 56-94.

Smile for the camera? Dan Kelly (20) stops to give the Yearbook Photographer a discouraging look. His feelings were shared by the team and students as we lost to Phoenix Union 94 to 56.

Dave Morrison (52) doesn't seem to be bothered, even though surrounded Coyotes. Dave had an average of 14 points per game.

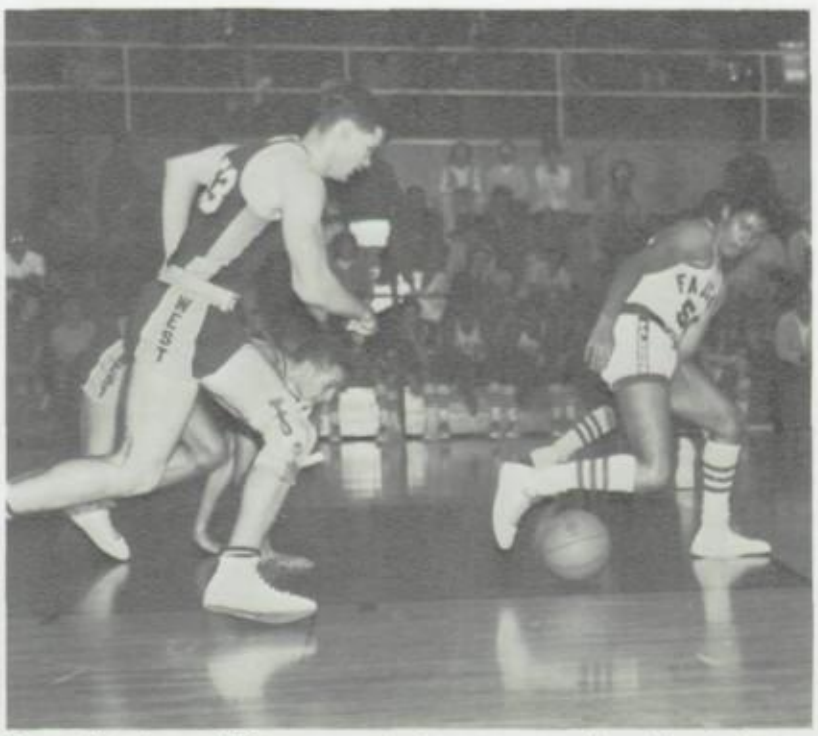
Bill Pellet (34) is flying high for a T-Bird score. Dave Morrison (52) and Ken Karpinski (54) set up for the rebound. The team's efforts were to no avail for we lost 94-56.

"Ah, come on, give it back." John Carpenter (40) says as a Phoenix Union player tries to steal the ball. Dave Morrison (52) is trying to lend a helping hand.

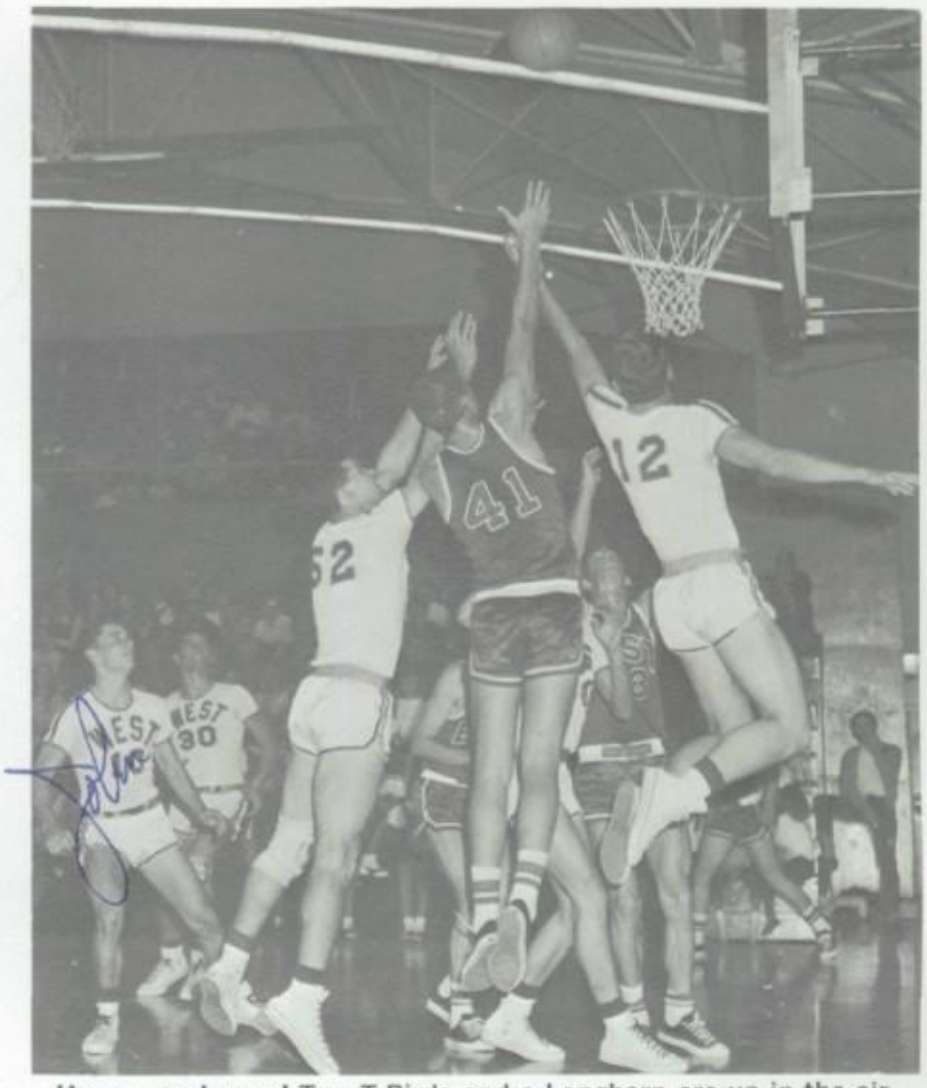
Is this soccer or basketball? Ken Schaub (31) tries to recover the ball before a Falcon pounces on it. West conquered the challenge by winning 61 to 51.



Dave Morrison (53) seems to be commanding the ball to come to him while Ken Karpinski (54) tries to solve the problem from a different angle.

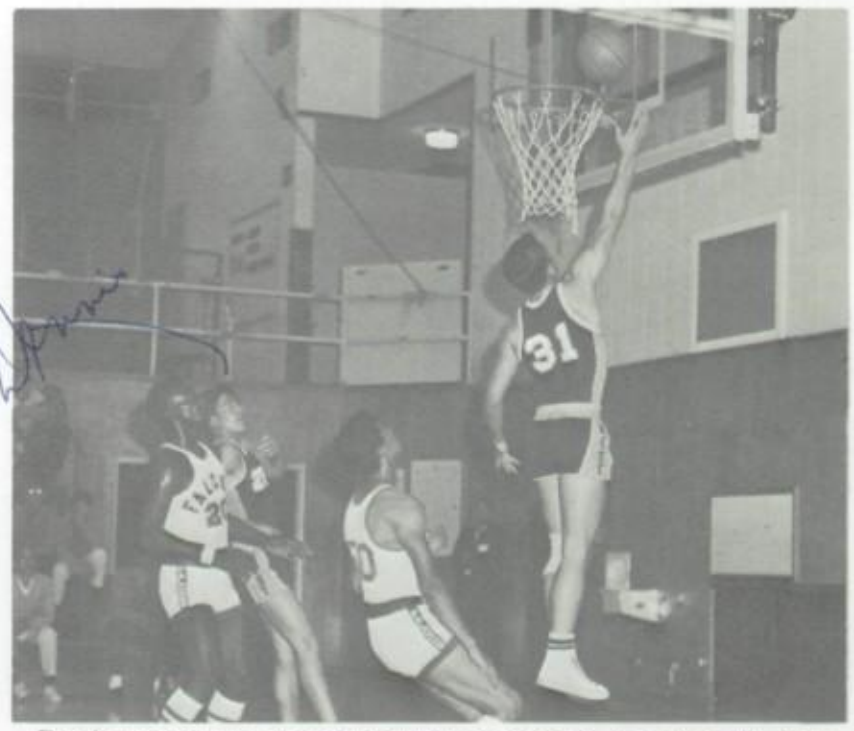
Two! Two! Two! With some watching intently and others cheering loudly, the cheerleaders helped add spirit to the Basketball season.

Ken Schaub (34) puts in "2" to help down the North High Mustangs. North was a two-time loser dropping a pair of games in three days to the T-Birds.



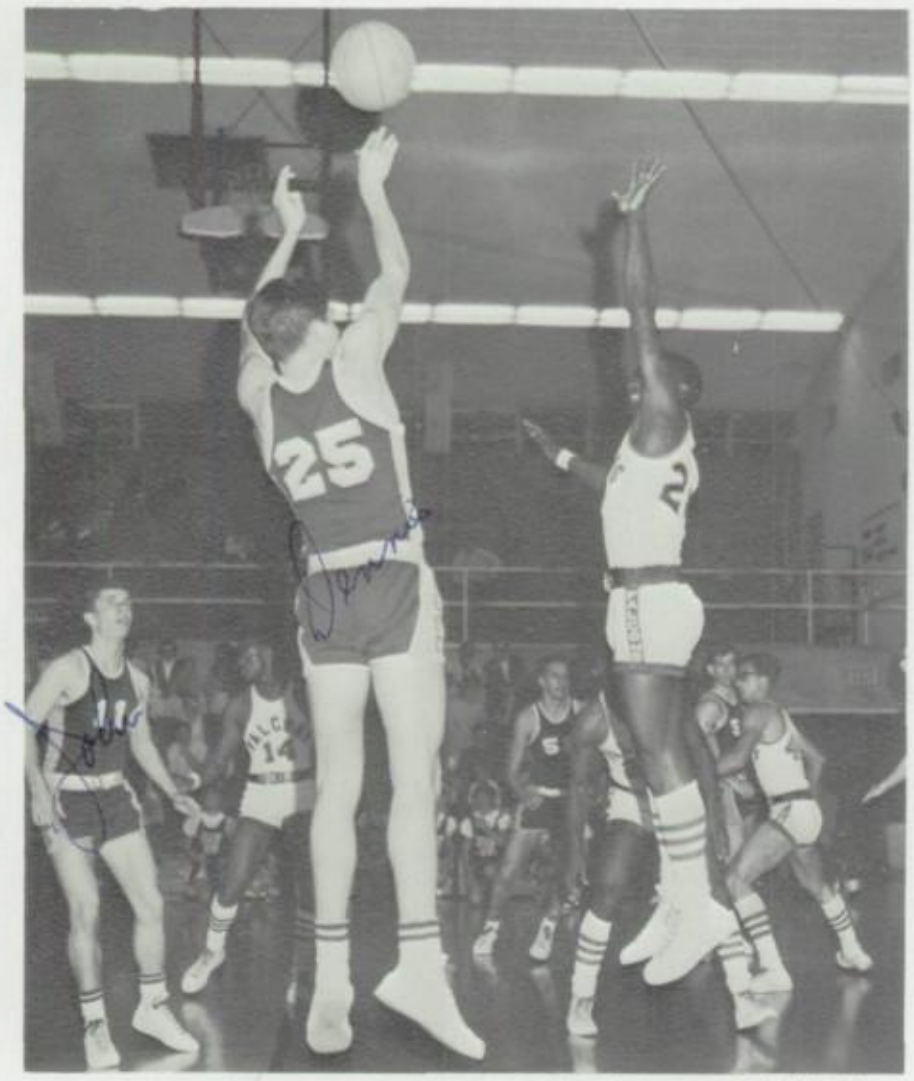
Up, up, and away! Two T-Birds and a Longhorn are up in the air over an attempted basket. Dave Morrison (52) and Steve Greer (12) vie for the ball. West dropped the Longhorns 77-58.

Dave Morrison (52) keeps an eye on a P. U. player who is down but not out.



Brothers team up to assure West of a score. Ken Schaub (31) goes for the lay-up and Dennis Schaub (25) sets up for the rebound. West stopped the Falcons 61-51.

Anticipation, cheer, and joy, fill the faces of a dedicated student body. Turning out in large crowds, they gave the team lots of support.



Here goes! Dennis Schaub (25) jumps high over a Carl Hayden defender for a shot at the basket.

All together now — the West High Pom Line did a terrific job entertaining the students during half-time, and helping to raise spirit.

JUNIOR VARSITY

Under the coaching of Joe Barragon, the J.V. cagers turned in a 13-6 season. Getting off to a slow start they lost their first game, dropping only five games after that. Their most outstanding game was a 62-35 dousing of the Paradise Valley team. Leading scorers were Fred LeSueur and Charlie Thompson.

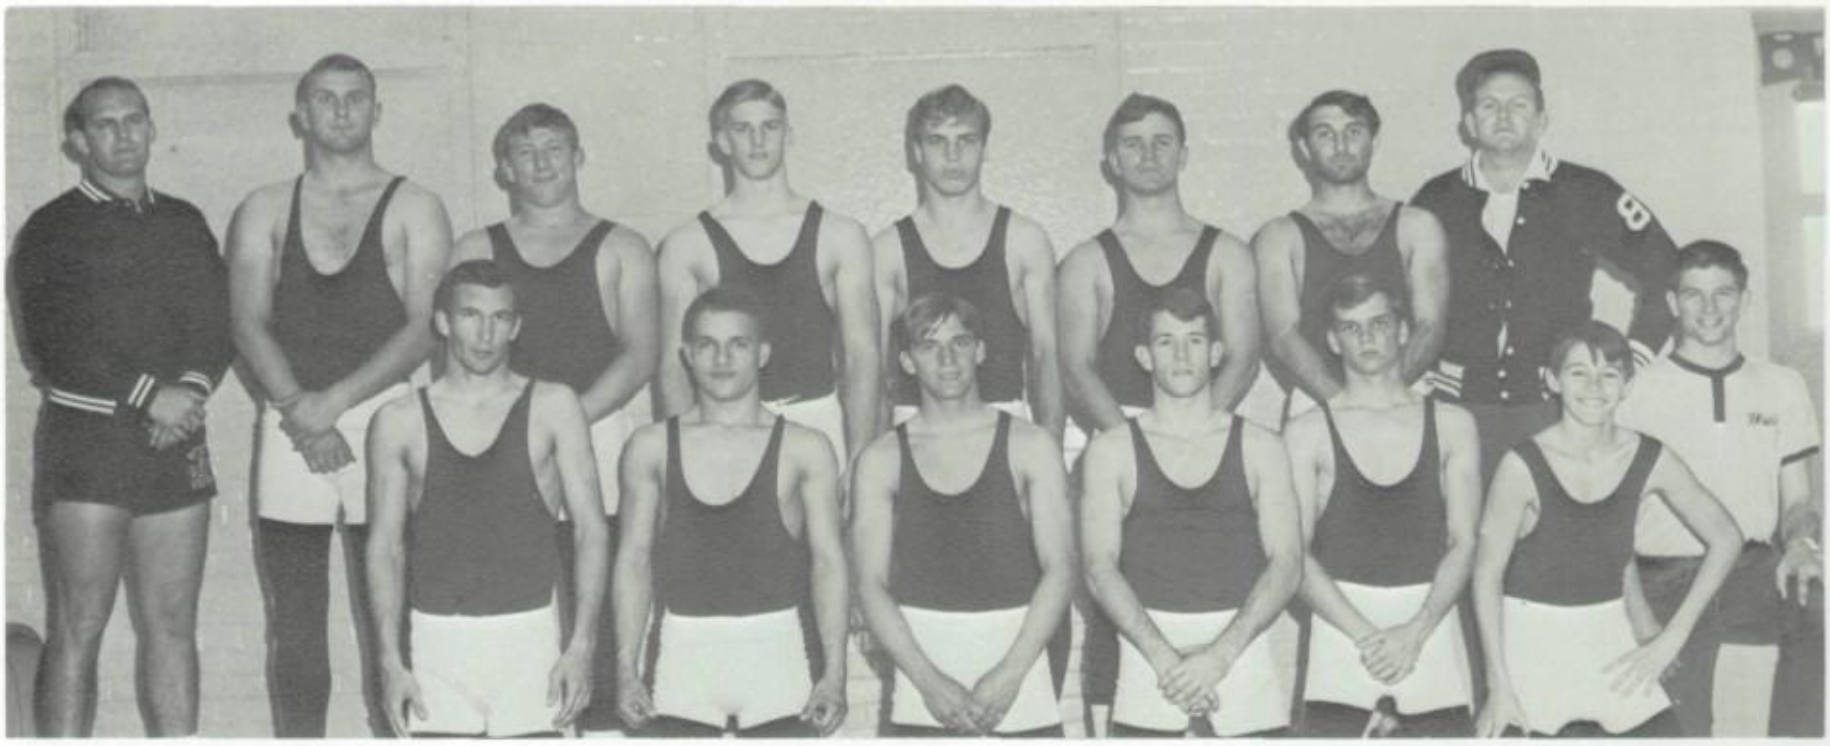
THUNDERCHICKS

The Freshmen Thunderchicks under the direction of Coach Fossum finished their 1967-68 season with an 8-9 record. In a slow starting season, they lost a number of close scoring games. High scorers were Dave Riley, Lou Saunders, Khyl Powell, and Ed Kossel. (See index for identification.)

THUNDERBOLTS

Coach Ed Ranshaw's Thunderbolts turned in a disappointing 3-14 season. Starting off with a win the Thunderbolts found it hard to gain victories later in the season.



This year the varsity wrestling team closed its season with a 5-4 record. Junior Mike Fuller lead the group with an 8-1 record, 6-2 records were turned in by John Holmes and Chuck Price.

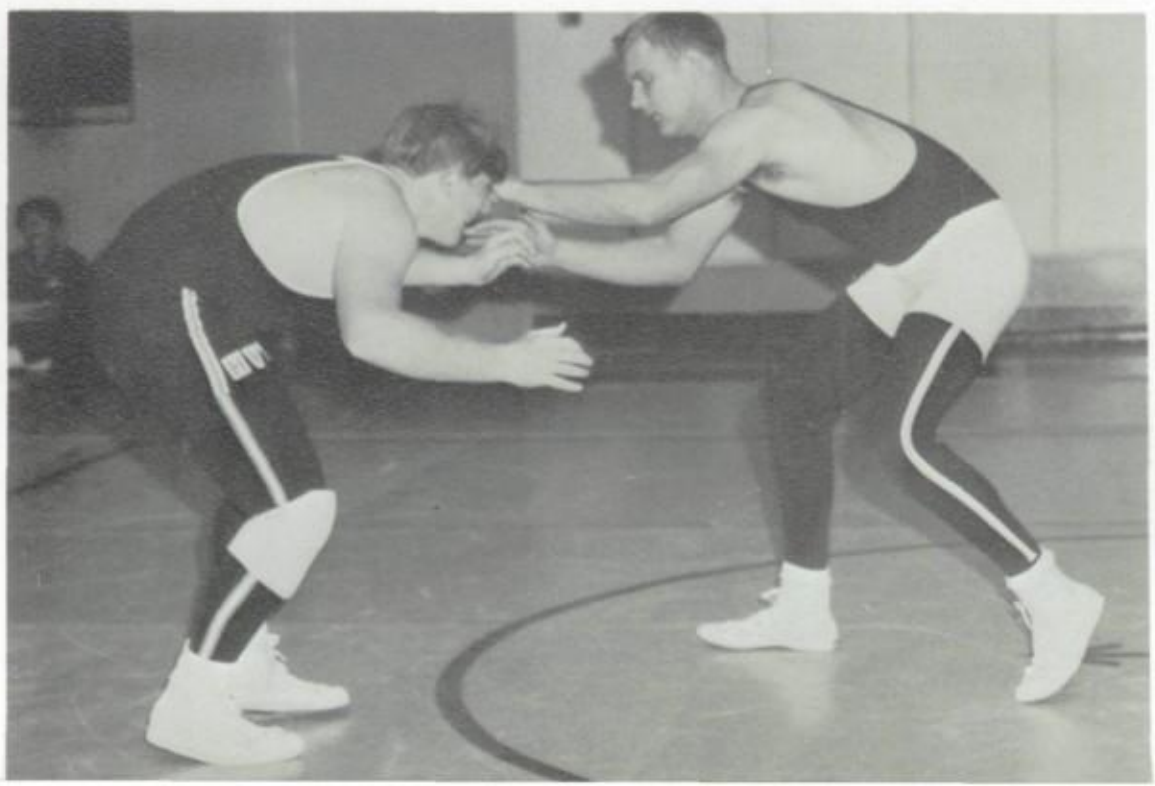
Doug Emminger has his opponents in a strategic position, as he helped his team down the Central Bobcats. Doug and the rest of the team turned in a winning season despite injuries.



It's the battle of the heavyweights. Chuck Price, varsity heavyweight mat man, enjoyed a good season as he finished with a 6-2 record. In this match he pinned his opponent in 58 seconds.

JUNIOR VARSITY

The J.V. grapplers under the coaching of Mike Starbuck finished season with a 7-2 record. Outstanding victories were a 63-0 win over Scottsdale and a 45-11 destruction of Glendale. Both Gary Shaw and Steve Schmidt turned in perfect records of 8-0.

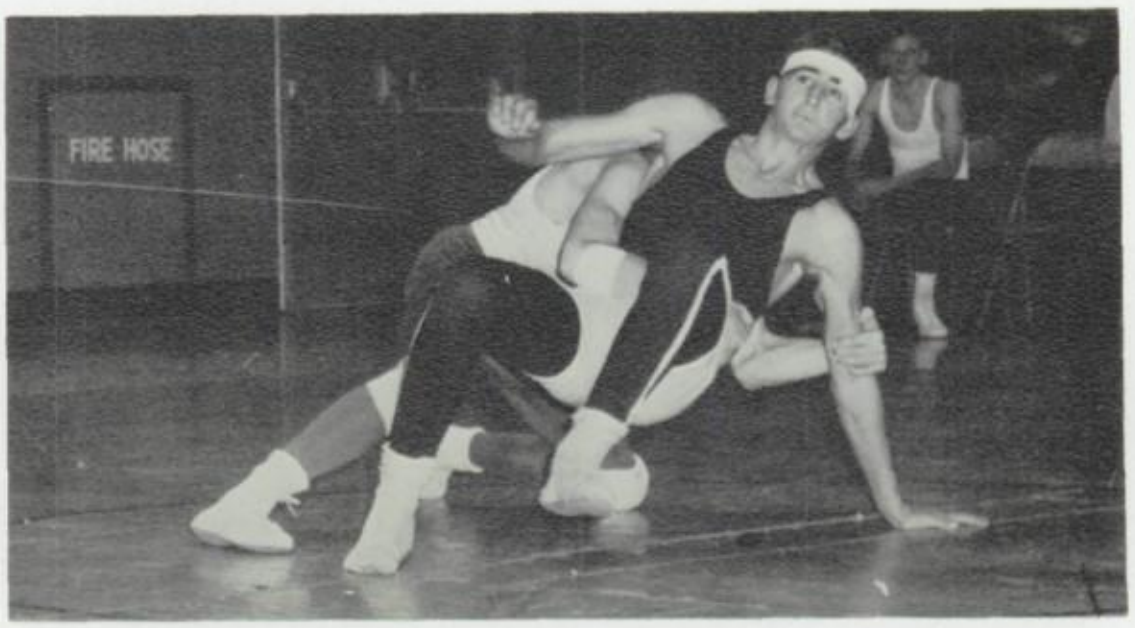
It's a confusing scene, but we're winning. This was the situation most of the year as the J.V. grapplers posted a 7-2 season.



"Wait a minute," says Bob Wallace as he tries to spin out of the grasp of a Scottsdale grappler. The J.V. won, pinning all opponents but one who lost by points. All in all, it was a great season for the J.V. team.

These men formed the field team, a combination of shotput, discus, high jump, pole vault, and broad jump. With only three seniors, it has great potential for next year.

Distance running and hurdles are this group's specialties. Backed up by returning lettermen, this group has the experience that helps a winning effort.

The long race is where this group enters the picture. Endurance and a strong finishing kick help at the end of a long, hard fought race.

Varsity track team comes on strong

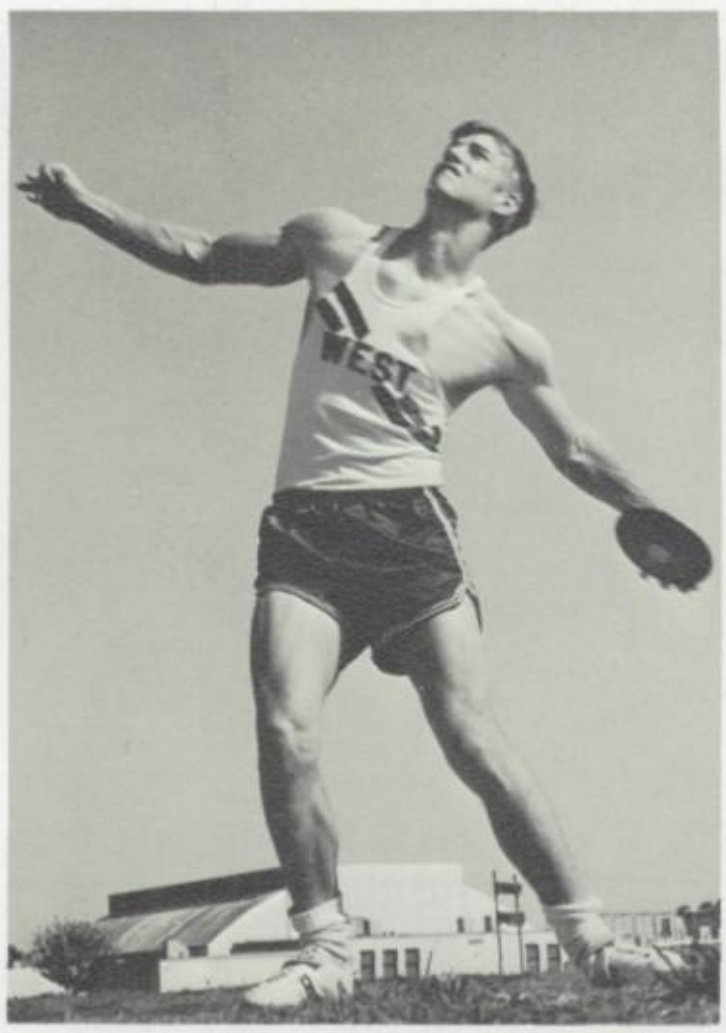
Up and over using all his available strength is Junior Mark Godfrey. The dedication and strain can be seen in his contorted face.

With a 2-0 conference record a third of the way through the season, Coach Dale Torrence's Varsity Track team has great expectations. With the absence of strong individuals, the team must rely on strong team finishings to win meets.

Coach Torrence listed his top two long-distance runners as Ray Crouch and Dan Giffer. His short distance runners are Arvid Magnuson and Kirk Gamble. Leading field men are Dan Otis at the shot put and the discus, and Dan White at the broad jump.

With the defeat of Carl Hayden, the T-Birds will cinch a tie in their division with a chance to play in the state final.

Greg Curtis displays his form of taking the low hurdles. Greg, a Senior, added great depth to the team with his middle distance running.



Sophomore Todd Housholder strains to get every possible ounce of muscle behind this throw. The great physical and mental dedication to this sport can be seen in this picture.

This year's Cross Country team turned in a disappointing season, finishing with a 5-5 record. The top running was done by a team void of Seniors. The strongest runners were two Juniors and a Sophomore.

Baseball team rises from early

West scores again! Charging across the plate without his hat is Pat Thompson. West stumped Palo Verde 3-2 for its first victory of the season.

Starting their season with a series of five losses, the T-Birds have come up with what promises to be a long string of victories. Coach Stitt attributes this to the improved pitching and hitting of all team members.

Dave Morrison is credited for the first two consecutive victories of the season. After the first seven games, the leading batter was Don Foutz with a .333 clip.

Coach Stitt expects a good season now that the team has gained confidence and are playing a smoother game.

Pitching batteries consist of three pitchers and two catchers. Dave Morrison was top pitcher at this time with two wins.

While Pat Hogan looks on from the third base coaching area, Tom Crandall (34) takes a swing and misses. No matter — West collected enough hits to produce a 6-1 trouncing of East.

This year's infield is composed mainly of seasoned Seniors. This adds to their effectiveness as a team since they have played together before.

The outfield is filled with these men who must *make the long throws. Again this is a Senior occu*pied field.

Decisions, decisions are always on a coach's shoulders. Some of these can be seen in the face of Coach Jim Stitt during the East High game.

This is going back to first the hard way — on your stomach. An unidentified West player dives back into first to tag up.

Watching teammate Ken Schaub (44) from the on deck circle is Don Cummings. Ken Schaub, one of the top five batters at mid-season, displays his swing.

The best way to keep them from hitting is to keep them ducking. This player is kept on his toes by an inside pitch. This seemed to help as West collected one more run than Palo Verde for a 3-2 victory.

JUNIOR VARSITY

As of mid-season, the JV baseball team had compiled a 3 and 3 record under the guidance of Coach John Saunders. The team has been paced by the hitting of Fred Sotelo and Randy Sevanson. A 3 and 0 record at mid-season was produced by pitcher Charlie Thompson.

FRESHMEN

Under the direction of their new coach, Jim Fossum, the Freshmen baseball team produced a 1 and 4 record with half the season yet to play. Leading the team with a 600 batting average was Mike Hancin. Dave Riley had a 1 and 0 record as the squad's top pitcher.

Soccer

The G.A.A. soccer team beat both Central and Carl Hayden at a playday held recently. A sport gaining in popularity, team members learned to enjoy and understand the game as well as learning to cooperate as a team.

Volleyball

Attracting more girls than any other sport the upperclassman Volleyball team played among themselves in Round Robin tournaments. The winner went on to the playday at Central and Carl Hayden.

Volleyball

The Freshman Volleyball team was divided into 8 different teams, who played against each other for fun and final competition to determine the best Freshman team. The team pictured was the winning Freshman team.

Basketball

Freshmen girls divided into 8 different Basketball teams and played Round Robin tournaments that lasted for 5 weeks. The winning team is shown here.

RIFLE TEAM

The West High Rifle Team has been state champions for the past three years. Under President Mark Toschik the rifle team practices 8th hour and after school everyday. There is also a junior varsity rifle team.

Coached by Fred Roche, this year's Varsity swim team has produced a good season. Paced by All-American Bill Heath and Dave Tempkin, the whole team worked hard.

West hosts Swimming district meet

With the backing of two All-Americans and a fine team effort, this year's swimming team started off its season with a 60½ to 3½ trouncing of Sahuaro. Both Dave Tempkin and Bill Heath have been named All-American and have provided a strong building point from which the team stands. Coach Fred Roche also named Eric Nepski and Glen Stombres as two other swimmers that add power to the team.

With a team composed mainly of underclassmen, it must rely on consistent second and third place finishes to win. Coach Roche stated that the team members were well-rounded and most of them can swim different strokes with the same ability.

A.F.S. student spends year in America

Marie-Claude Anatra

Our A.F.S. foreign exchange student for 1967-68 was Marie-Claude Anatra from Belgium, commonly known as M.C.

When asked about the difference in her school, at home, and West High, she emphatically stated, "Everything!" To begin, she attended an all girls school of only 600 in comparison to the 2,000 co-eds here at West. M.C. said that Belgium knows nothing of preps, counselors, student council, or student government, all of which are so familiar to us. Belgium high schools operate on a "week" schedule similar to our college systems. Because of this, the "day" schedule used here sometimes tended to become tedious for M.C., but this was equaled out by the fact that in Belgium the system requires a minimum of fourteen subjects and once a "set" is chosen all the courses included within it must be taken.

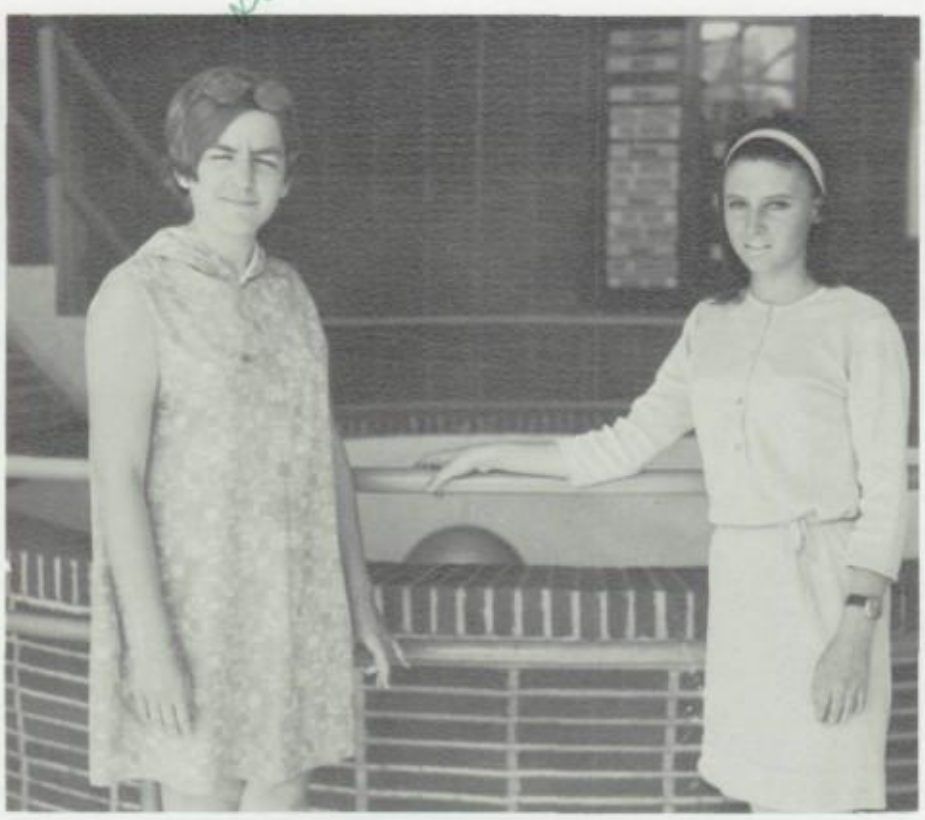
Though these factors seem to create an attitude of respect toward the instructors, the lanes of communication between students and faculty lack the open friendliness that M.C. especially noted here.

"Open friendliness" is another thing M.C. noted between girls and boys over here. In Belgium there is much less dating in separate pairs but this doesn't stop them from couple-dating in groups. Because of these group dates, parties are much more frequent there than here.

When she noted that Americans live at a faster pace than Belgiums, she also joined most Europeans in the idea that life here is also exciting. Still, though she'll miss her "adopted family" and the American people, college and the possibility of a career as an interpreter, but home is where the heart is!

M.C., our foreign exchange student, and Penne Melick exchange homework and conversation under the olive trees, a good place to think and talk.

This is M.C.'s lovely school in Belgium. It's an all girl school with a student body of 600 girls.



Our "Youths for Understanding" students, Lena Johansson from Sweden and Carolina Hounie from Uruguay stop for a few minutes of conversation by the Pendulum.

Dear West High Friends,

Thank you for this year. There has been masses of new things. You all have helped me in different ways, even if we didn't know each other. And to all people I knew this year I wish to thank you and I hope that you all are going well.

Lena

'Youth for Understanding' students

For the first time at West High the Youths for Understanding program has been put into action for a whole school year. Our representative for 67-68 came from Sweden, Lena Johansson.

Sweden's schools are based on the "week" schedule, with a minimum of thirteen subjects required and five "lines" or sets of courses, each featuring special subjects to choose from.

While there is student government in Sweden, Lena feels that youth is the only other characteristic shared by both American and Swedish students. The respect shown by the students, rising with "good morning" as their instructor enters, is characteristic of the student-teacher relationship at Lena's school.

Lena commented on the extra-curricular activities here at West which far exceeded those in her homeland. More than from any other source, Lena feels that she has been able to learn from the trips sponsored by West High.

Lena's travel has not been restricted to America. In 1964, she spent an exchange month with a "sister" from Germany. In addition, she visited England in a town just outside Liverpool and attended the university there.

Lena feels that she has gained a better understanding of the American way of life — a life very much different, more confusing, than her own.

Lena's immediate future holds studying at the university. Looking farther ahead there are no immediate plans of marriage to be seen, but rather she hopes to tour the world and enter some phase of diplomatic service.

Carolina Hounie represents Uruguay through the Youths for Understanding program here at West.

Because Carolina's school year runs from March through November, the semester that she attended here at West cut into her schooling and consequently she will have to take the last year over before entering a university in Montevideo. In Uruguay, "grade-school" lasts years but "high-school" is composed of four years similar to ours and two years of preparation for college. While a school day only lasts 'til 12:30, it begins at 7:30. Classes are attended on Saturdays and twelve solids are required. Typing, P.E., and many more of our electives are considered "extra-curricular" and must be taken after school.

Though Carolina finds American life very enjoyable, women are more dependent and home-oriented in Uruguay and perhaps this is one of our problems. America, Carolina feels, is more modern than Uruguay but the teenagers are very much the same. Going steady is fairly common in her homeland but groups of girls meeting groups of guys is even more so. The girl who dates a variety of boys—though Carolina finds the custom enjoyable — is considered horrible.

Carolina especially appreciates her "adopted" family because she says "it's young, they're starting-out" and as they learn she learns.

Time was one of the most noticeable factors of American life to Carolina. Everything, she says, is scheduled and budgeted and it's "work, work, work!" In Uruguay more time is taken to relax and enjoy life. "By the time you are ready to relax, you are too tired to enjoy it!" Still, this is part of America and Carolina found something to love in everything.

Top 2% Seniors choosen

This year out of five hundred graduating seniors, only ten students rank in the top two per cent. Each semester, from the Freshman year forward required lots of hard work on the part of these students to create the high cumulative average necessary to attain this honor. With seventh semester grades recorded, the decisions were made and it's apparent that these students share the characteristics of both self-discipline and a keen desire for knowledge.

PARNASAS

Parnassus is an honorary club of members ranking in the top 25% of their class. To remain in the club, students must maintain a 4.5 grade average. Six meetings were held this year with the Annual Banquet at Ferguson's Cafeteria on January 26th. Dean Pederick of A.S.U.'s Law School was the guest speaker. Students also receive recognition for being a member of Parnassus on their diploma.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

To join the National Honor Society, a junior must have had a straight A average at the end of his sophomore year and maintain a 4.5 grade average while a member. A senior is required to keep up a 4.5 grade average also. Students are chosen on scholarship, service, leadership, and character qualities. Different foundations offer scholarships to students based on these qualities.

NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLARSHIP

This year West was represented by five finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Contest. These seniors are: Jerry Cochran, Richard Gerkin, Richard Shindell, Tim Sunde, and Liz Willers. The finalists were chosen on the basis of their scores in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test. They were then endorsed by the school on scholastic ability and performance.

GIRLS STATE

Girls' State is a workshop sponsored by the American Legion. Its purpose is to give Senior girls an opportunity to learn about government functions and to practice politics at the state and local level. It is a week of hard work and little sleep, but one of lasting friendships and rewarding experiences. Representing West were these four girls. These students, not all pictured, were chosen this year for All-State Band, Orchestra and Chorus. These students were chosen on the basis of their ability from the many sections which compose each of these three categories. All these students went on to the festival at Arizona State University and were honored with certificates.

ELKS AWARD

Rick Shindell, West senior, was awarded third place honors for the Phoenix area and a $100 scholarship in the Elks National Foundation's "Most Valuable Student" contest.

ANYTOWN

These students, (from left) Carol Cheifetz, Dennis Donchak, Cathy Wallace, and David Shapiro (not pictured) represented West High at the Anytown human-relations workshop this summer. This program, divided into two sections, one for Freshmen, the other for Sophomores and Juniors, lasts six days and is held in Prescott at the Sky Y Camp. The Anytown session featured group discussions and in the Sophomore-Junior section, both the world situations and cultures were stressed.

ALL STATE SPEECH AND DEBATE

At the A.I.A. Speech Tournament this year, West High took the runner-up trophy based on winning points from all the categories entered. The Phoenix Union High School District took four debate teams to A.I.A. and of these, three come from West. In addition, our teams placed first, third, and fourth. In the state finals which were held April 6th at Alhambra High, our three debate teams were entered. They were: 1) Gary Gorton and Jeff Boshes, 2) Andy Donchak and Richard Cohen, and 3) Scott Goodson and Alan Gookin. In the speech categories, Greg Gorton entered in poetry, Bill Drury entered in extemporaneous, and Barbara Angelo entered in prose.

SCHOLASTIC ART AWARD

Developing a greater appreciation of the Arts in everyday living and as a skill professionally is thed ual purpose of the Fine Arts section. Courses in drama, art, and photography are offered for this purpose. Student participation in contests has been so encouraged that 14 students were awarded Gold Keys and numerous medallions in the Arizona Scholastic Art and Photography contest.

Dear Liz,
I have known you for so long now, and I want you to know that you are a sweet person and a dear friend. Good luck as a senior next year — you'll love it! And Liz — may God bless you and let you continue all the work you have done for brotherhood. The world needs many more like you!

ORGANIZATIONS

Club Identification in Activities Index

Organizing student government activities are these officers: Paula Cantrell — Girl's Secretary, Dennis Davis — President, Don Cummings — Boy's Secretary, Rob Mariani — Vice-President, and John Naegle — Treasurer.

The Student Council covers a big job. It has three main purposes; to teach responsibility and the process of democratic government to students, to carry-out the various necessary jobs involved with student governing, and finally to keep all students informed as to what is being done within the committee.

Our Student Council sets itself an outline of specific projects that are carried out each year in addition to many tentative ones. The annual projects included for 1967-68 were: the Christmas tree decoration, the Christmas-time food collection, the magazine sale, and the T.A.P. drive. New this school year was the Computer Dance which presented some very interesting results.

One Student Council member is elected at the beginning of each year from among the nominations made in each reg room. This person attends all the meetings which are generally held every two weeks, and each representative, in addition to being a member of the general council, belongs to a special committee which requires separate work.

Members of executive committee take a break from a heavy pace.

Student council representatives elected from their Reg rooms, attend bi-monthly meetings and participate in committees. Their main job is to keep the students informed on the activities and policies of Student Government.

Mr. Mansour addresses student government with new ideas and administrative policies. Meetings were held in the auditorium twice a month.

Conducting the meetings and carrying out the duties of Student Government are these officers. Results from student elections passed the Constitutional amendment of changing Boys and Girls Secretary to Recording and Corresponding Secretary.

ACTIVITY

All Homecoming activities including Junior Olympics, decorations, and planning the program were under the direction of Jackie Short, chairman, and the Activities committee. They organized the noontime Rodeo dance and the tug-of-war after school. They were also responsible for keeping track of class competition points. organize elections and maintain order

ELECTIONS

Supervising, compiling, and announcing election results while also providing a good public image were the responsibilities of this committee and Paul Metchik, chairman. Also the rules and their supervision of all school elections were supplied by this active committee.

SOCIAL

Our Social committee, with Carol Cheifetz as chairman, works throughout the school year to provide social activities for the entire student body. This last year they co-operated hand in hand with the Activities committee to produce a successful Homecoming Week.

Spirit boosters throughout the entire year were our cheerleaders: (standing) Penny Kurtz, Cindy Champagne, Gwen Lindstrom, and Lynde Refsnes. (kneeling) Nancy Vitek (Football captain), Ginger Kurtz, Valerie Erb, and Carolyn Adams (Basketball captain).

Cheerleaders add pep and spirit to game

Our Pom Pon girls and cheerleaders join together to lead the Student Body in singing our Alma Mater at a Pep Assembly during the football season.

Being a cheerleader takes practice and practice and more practice.

Cheerleaders are the big promoters of spirit on campus and our eight did an excellent job this year. Through their popsicle and bake sales, car washes and rummage sales, they raised money to cover, among other things, their uniform and traveling expenses. These activities also enabled them to promote our teams and the attendance at games. Every football game offered both decorated goal posts and a run-thru, besides signs of encouragement plastered over the entire school. These girls were responsible for the organization of the pep rallies and they attended all school functions. Our cheerleaders were selected on the basis of their personality and appearance, their ability and their pep, as well as their leadership qualities.

Tryouts are the beginning of a career as Pom Pon girls. After a week of hard work, excitement and suspense the lucky ten find themselves chosen to represent West on the Pom Pon line.

They practice every night after school during the season. They did a number of things to promote school spirit including spirit signs, rosters, and performing at the football and basketball games.

Carefully working out precision dances for all the games and assemblies, the Pom Pon girls were: (standing left to right) Christi Frandsen, Penne Melick, Ginni Weaver, Cathy Stanley, Robin Redding, Cheryl Kaplan, Vickie Heavin, and Susie Refsnes. (Kneeling) Christi Burgess (Football captain), and Jan Lawrence (Basketball captain).

Pom Pon entertain with synronized dancing

Miss P. Prather, Pom Pon sponsor and Miss B. Dryer, Cheerleader sponsor, prove to be. capable and enthusiastic sponsors.

During both football and basketball seasons, our Pom Pon girls worked hard to provide a variety of intricate dances to entertain and boost spirit.

Between dances the Pom Pon line add words of encouragement to the football team.

Talent and hard work was the combined effort that contributed to Productions success this year.

Productions perform with Central

The Nutcracker Suite comes alive, as Christmas finds a toy soldier and princess responding to the Happy Holiday spirit.

Productions is a class based on try-outs and work. It is the performing group within the dance program at West.

After long weeks of preparation, they perform at football games, assemblies, civic programs, etc. They performed during half-time at a football game, they gave us a beautiful Christmas Assembly, and were also responsible for supplying Can Can girls at the Rodeo Assembly.

Their one big project and money maker was the joint concert with Central High School, April 9th. Dances were based upon the customs of various countries around the world. Girls in the dance groups choreographed their dances and made their own costumes with help of Production sponsor, Miss Prather.

This year Productions will sponsor the Utah Civic Ballet in concert, for their first appearance in the Valley.

Debbie Harmon, Christi Frandsen and Rosie Ruocco extend graceful arms in the formation of icicles.

Band students at games and concerts

Elected by the band members, this active council planned and organized all band activities. With the help of Mr. Marshall, band director, they are also the band policymakers.

Trumpeters from the Marching Band perform in unison at a pep assembly.

This is the first year that West High School has had a Symphonic Band.

With approximately sixty members, their big project for the school year 1967-68 was the March 7th concert with Mr. Hill, the director of bands at A.S.U., as the guest artist. He performed Bartok's "Fifteen Peasant Songs" in which he played eleven different instruments. This concert earned them the money with which they will enter the Tucson Band and Orchestra Festival, buy band pins, and provide a scholarship for some deserving student.

Many students don't realize that their Marching Band is an organization apart from the regular band.

Under the direction of Mr. Marshall, the West High Marching Band was seen and heard by more people during the year than all our other activities put together.

They performed at football games, as pep bands at basketball games, marched in the Rodeo Parade, played at the State Fair, held a concert February 1st, entered the U. of A. Music Festival, participated in the C.S. Parade during June, and held candy sales throughout the spring.

As a public relations group the Marching Band represented West and its spirit in a multitude of activities.

Band performs at another pep assembly, reminding us of how indispensable they are.

Symphonic Band

The Symphonic Band Council, composed of President Ann Kappel (Center) and her assistants Marilyn Townsend and Ronald Jones, are responsible for organizing this group's activities.

The Brass section of the Symphonic Band provides the power for outdoor playing but is equally important in concert work.

The second section that composes the Symphonic Band is the woodwind group which offers a wide variety in tone.

Marching Band

The clear cut mellow tone of the Marching Band can be accredited to this Saxaphone, Trumpet, and Baritone section.

As the largest group in the Marching Band, the Flute and Clarinet section has the responsibility of carrying the melody.

Though the smallest group of the three, this section, with the help of Majorette Norma Jean Strickland, keeps the basic beat for the Marching Band.

This council is responsible for the Orchestra's extra-curricular activities and has some say in the acceptance of outside engagements. They are influential in the decision of the annual award winners, the major one being the National School Orchestra Award offered to a top-rate graduating Senior.

Orchestra adds culture to West

The West High Orchestra is a 70 member organization based on the instrumentation of a full symphony.

During the year they have appeared in two formal concerts, at several of our elementary schools, in the West High music festival, festivals at Arizona State University, and the University of Arizona.

The honors which were awarded to orchestra members for all-state 1968 were widely varied. They covered almost every phase involved in an orchestra, and often there were several awards per section.

In the Young Musicians Contest, Don Asper was Grand Prize winner and appeared with the Phoenix Symphony Orchestra. Leonard Cheatham, Grand Prize winner last year was again winner in the string division. The director of this organization, which has been reputed to be "the" orchestra in Arizona on the high school level, was Mr. R. Philabaum with assistant director Mr. R. Marshall.

An orchestra isn't always all work — between sessions jokes are tossed around freely.

In contrast to the above picture, when the orchestra works, everyone becomes intent.

The largest single section in our Orchestra is the violin group which is paired with the violas. The violins are the heart of the orchestra while the violas, which are alto strings, create a fuller effect for this section.

The cello, bass, and percussion sections are grouped together to form the second part of our orchestra. To the cellos we owe the tenor sound and the percussion section adds the salt and pepper which spices any music. The string bass section provides the foundation in any orchestra on which the rest of the instruments build.

The third section of our orchestra is composed of the woodwind and the brass groups. The different "colors and moods" found in an orchestra can be accredited to the winds and when power is needed, the brass section comes through every time.

The Orchestra members take a breather and listen to their instructor between sessions, which requires concentration and hard work.

Richard Van Epps and Sue Henry have the absorbed look of concentration required of all good musicians.

Under the direction of Mr. Huff, the Mixed Chorus has shaped up to form a performing group that's really worth hearing.

Chorus performed all over Valley

A Capella is a singing group which is composed of girls from Freshman Girls' Chorus and Minnesingers. Before becoming a member, a girl must audition and then attend meetings held after school twice a week. Some of their activities for the school year 1967-68 were: performing on KBUZ radio, at the Mentally Retarded Childrens Home, the Kiwanis Convention, Student Recitals and entering the U. of A. Music Festival in Tucson.

Minnesingers is actually Advanced Girls' Chorus, and therefore it is a regularly accredited class. Members are generally in their Sophomore or Junior year and an audition is necessary to enter this group, also. Some of their activities for this year included: singing on KOY and KBUZ radios in addition to performing in the East and Maryvale High Girls' Chorus Festivals, and the U. of A. Musical Festival.

Mixed Chorus is an accredited class of boys and girls under the direction of Mr. Huff. Many of the girls who auditioned came from Minnesingers and on the whole the potential seemed to have been very high this year.

A few of the activities that they participated in this year were: the Arizona State Fair, our assemblies here at West, and a performance at Western Savings Bank, and also entered a competitive program held at East High.

The Mixed Chorus experienced a few moments of confusion in the last rush before the Christmas Assembly.

A Capella is a club which meets twice weekly after school and is composed of girls that are really interested in singing.

Minnesingers is a regular all-girls class with advanced standing. Auditions limit the class to those who not only have ability but are really eager to learn.

The Minnesingers place gaily wrapped packages under the tree as they sing "good cheer to all" at our Christmas Assembly.

The battalion is run by Battalion Commander Bruce McCurdy and Sergeant Savick, Advisor.

Junior R.O.T.C. is one of the most valuable courses offered on the West High campus. It is a course in leadership and citizenship. Every cadet is given the opportunity to be given and accept the responsibilities of leadership. This is something no other course in high school can offer.

Bruce is responsible for training of cadets, organization, or any other commitments that might come up.

Military develops well rounded citizens

The military staff carries out all administrative policies. They are responsible for supplies, publicity, and security. In other words, they are the heart of the paper mill.

Under the leadership of Gary Nutting, the Drill Team has performed at the Fair, Rodeo Parade, and many other exhibitions. The West High Drill Team has for the past two years been the city's best Drill Team.

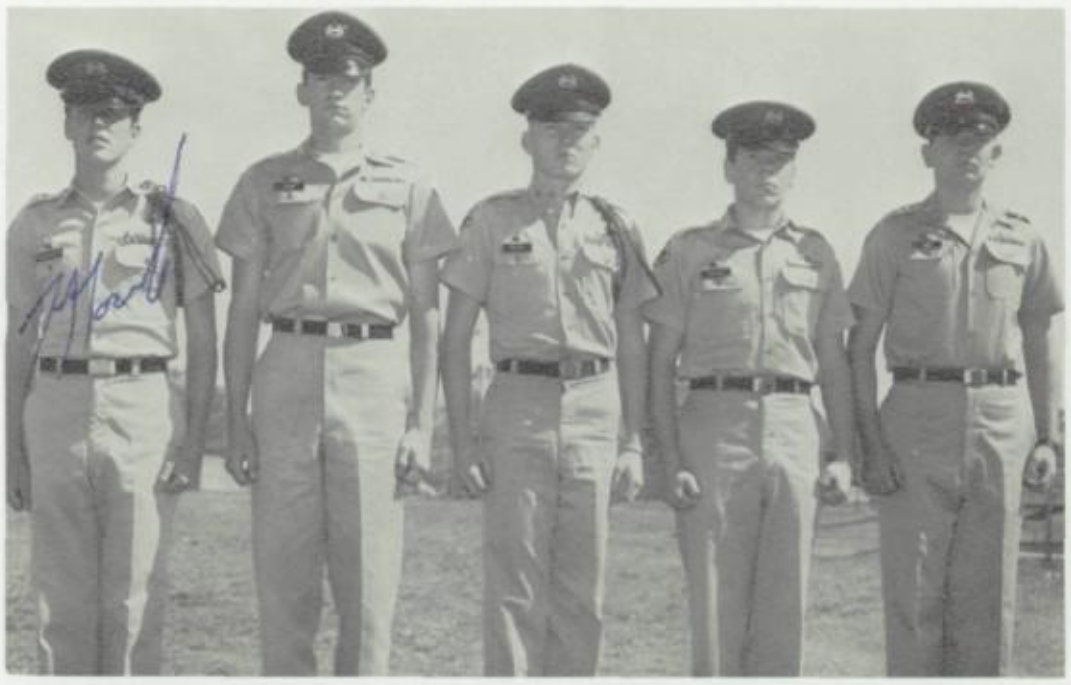
West's military department

Under the direction of Company Commander Gary Basham, Company A has once again won many honors and received much recognition. This company also collected $600.00 for Sammuel Gompers.

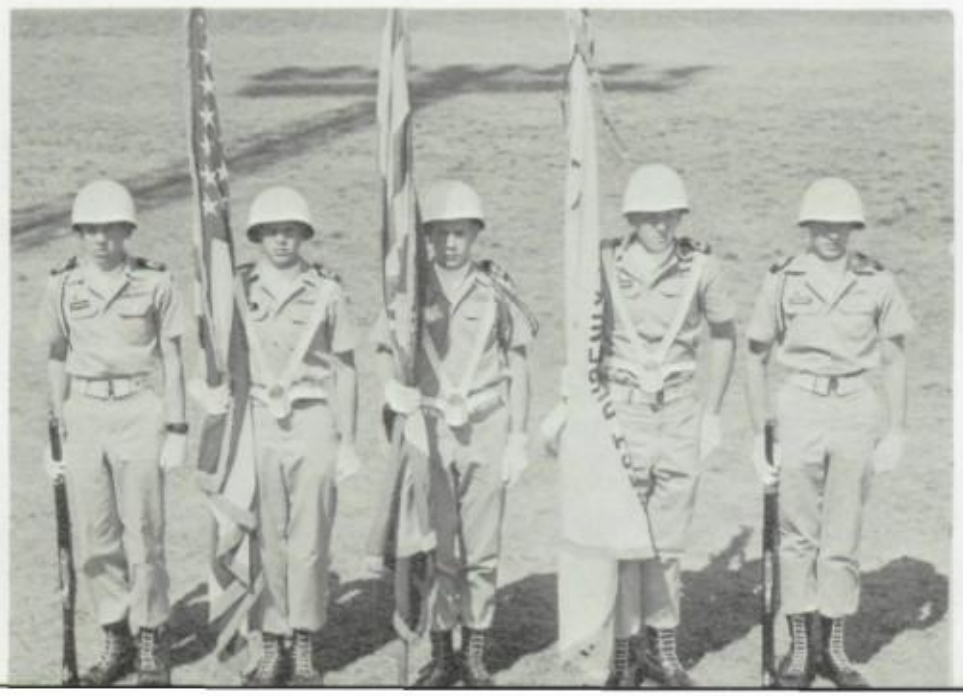
The Freshman Color Guard has represented West High in a way we can be proud of. It has performed both at West High and Phoenix College football games besides many functions in Sun City.



Under the command of Mark Toschik, these are the staff officers of Company B. Mark Toschik Company B Commander, Fred Ryan Executive Officer, Jack Berry 1st Platoon leader, Randy Brosius 2nd Platoon leader, and Skip Hass 3rd Platoon leader.

earns $600 for Gompers

Learning today to be tomorrow's leaders is a good description of Company B. Under the leadership of Mark Toschik, this company was composed only of upperclassmen. This battalion was judged best in the Veteran's Parade.



West High Color Guard has been asked by many organizations around the state to raise colors. They have made approximately 40 trips to various schools in the valley and have performed in military ceremonies, flag dedications, and represented the Army at Moon Valley.

Many hours + hard work = Westerner

Editor this year and a staff member last year, Pam Housholder was hard at it since early summer directing the difficult and time consuming job of piecing together our Westerner.

Hundreds of pictures were taken throughout this year to record all memorable events. After the best possible prints were sifted out, they were passed on to the copyists where the story begun by the photographers was finished.

The art staff was responsible for all the juggling and careful planning necessary to create interesting and attractive layouts for both the pictures and their accompanying copy.

Doing their own paste-downs and printing their own headlines served a two-fold purpose for the Westerner staff — a reduction in expenditures and a definite gain in experience.

With enthusiasm and cooperation, these students worked hard to produce a memorable record of the 1967-68 school year.

Between writing reminders, letters for information, and creating attractive layouts, Pam Cannon, Terri Black, and Carol Johnson have their hands full with details necessary for our Westerner.

Whether covering the campus in search of life shots, shooting football games or processing film, these photographers were always busy. Also tackling the job of printing the pictures that appear in the Westerner are: Bob Smith, Steve Opitz, Terry Keel, and Lyn Stahl. Carol Johnson had the job of filing and making contact prints of all negatives.

The fate of each page begins with these girls: Darlene Shepperd and Terri Black. They have the very important job of drawing the layouts, deciding which pictures to use, and sizing them to be printed. Lay-out is one of the most versatile and important parts of the staff.

The typing staff consisted of Ann Rutledge and Pam Cannon. Ann typed up all the copy written for the Westerner so it could be sent to the printers. Being a very efficient and accurate typist, Ann also caught a lot of copy mistakes. Pam Cannon prints all the head-lines running throughout the book. She also pastes down the copy which has come back from the printers.

Proofreading is one of the most exacting and time consuming jobs involved in putting together a yearbook. And here, Debbie Hett, Terry Keel, and Darlene Shepperd join forces to cut down on the time as much as possible.

Looking for just the right word, going through endless interviews, and trying to stretch a couple of sentences into a paragraph was the responsibility of the Westerner copy staff. Photographer Steve Opitz also tackled the job of writing sports copy. The staff, Connie Lotspeich, Sue Keown, and Sue Simpson were accountable for every word printed in the Westerner.

Debbie Hett, Suzanne Utter, Chrys Laue, and Karen Heidenreich were responsible for proofreading, getting identification, preparing the indexes, and pasting down pictures. Often better known as "Yearbook runners", members of this staff were sent to such distant sections of West as the P.E. offices, annex, and the administrative office to get important information for the Westerner.

Sundial keeps students informed

Sporting one of the largest staffs, this year the Sundial's three editors, Cindy Champagne, Sherri Paquette, and Rick Shindell, with the help of advisor Mr. Agee, once again have combined experience with hard work to make the newspaper something to be proud of.

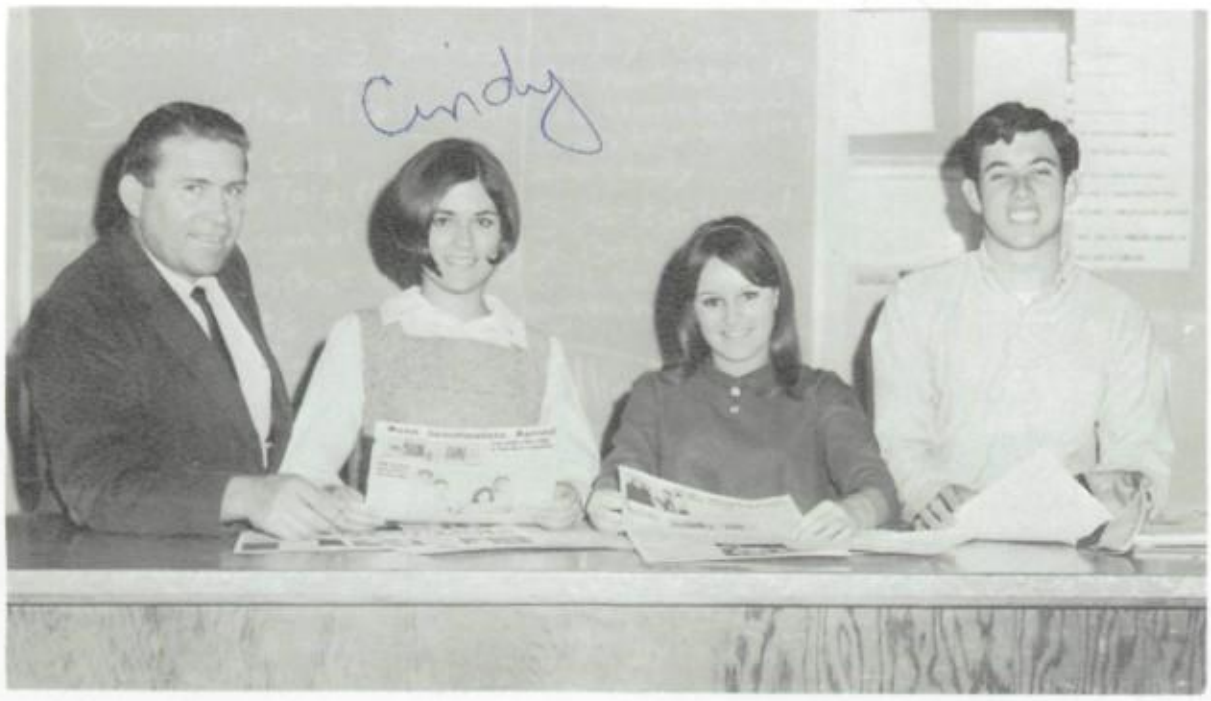
Quite a few special features were printed this year, for example a dating poll and a feature showing student attitude toward smoking. The Sundial had good sports coverage and introduced more picture pages.

Ads provided the main support of the newspaper, bringing in 60% of the funds; sales made up the balance. West also had the largest circulation, 1,000-1,500 papers, more than any other high school in Phoenix.

The Sundial served as a laboratory for high school journalism students. They gained experience in all phases of newspaper work, including layout, copy, and setting headlines.

Hours of thought and hard work went into each edition of the Sundial. Many hours were spent after school perfecting the paper in order to provide an accurate and complete Sundial.

Layout is one of the most important steps in the production of a good newspaper and these two Sun Dial staff members take their work seriously.



This year our three Sundial editors came to us with a year of experience. With the help of advisor, Mr. Agee, they write many of the articles, instruct other members of the staff, write editorials, take turns each month writing "Around the Quad," and generally oversee the publication of the Sundial.

These members of staff are responsible for all pictures appearing in the Sundial, cartoons, and art work. The beautiful Christmas page in the Sundial was drawn by Paula Cantrell, while all other members of staff were responsible for all art and photographs appearing in the Sundial.

The Ad Staff is the life blood of the Sundial, being that it is the largest staff. The paper operates like a small business with a loss of 5¢ per paper. The selling of Ads is the only way for the Sundial to obtain funds. They call local businesses and obtain a certain number of ads to help finance the Sundial.

The reporters are the foundation for all news appearing in the Sundial. They interview people, carry out assignments, write stories, and headlines. All of these are assigned to them by their editors.

Page editors are responsible for all material appearing on their particular page. Such as sport pages, feature pages, and editorials. These people also write feature columns and humor columns.

Could it be that these two loyal Sun Dial staff members are checking over Westerners for ideas?

Organizing the activities of Girls' League these officers worked hard all year. They are: Gail Bergstrom, President, Pat Dyson, Vice-President, Pati Gilleo, Secretary, and Mary Jo Petersen, Treasurer.

SENIOR

This active council put on the Semi-Formal, "Once Upon A Time." Besides planning, organizing, and making a success of the Semi, they entertained at the Crippled Children's Hospital and sold Valegrams.

JUNIOR

Junior Girls' League had bake sales to earn money to use for next year's Semi. They also helped sell Homecoming Mums and sold Valegrams on Valentine's Day.

SOPHOMORE

Sophomore Girls League, divided into two councils, sold Dill Pickles, Popcorn Balls, and Peanuts to earn money for community propects. The only requirement to join is an active interest in service and promoting fellowship among West High girls.

FRESHMAN

Freshman Girls' League council is a service organization in which money was raised and denated to help support a Korean orphan. In addition to this, they made smocks for the Red Cross and held bake sales for T.A.P.

Girls League promotes spirit among girls

Cabinet is the co-ordinator for the four councils of Girls' League. Composed of the officers, council advisors, and presidents, they were responsible for the assembly which acquainted incoming girls with the purpose of Girls' League and explained the Big Sister program. They organized the Puff and Pant prom, sold Valegrams, and assisted the Senior council with the Girl's League Semi-Formal.

INTERACT

Interact is a service club here at West. They have done various things around school and in our community. Some of their projects were painting trash cans, sponsoring a clean-up day, and participating in and winning the tug-of-war against Key Club.

FELLOWSHIP

Fellowship's main objective this year was to create an atmosphere of brotherhood throughout the school.

Their many projects include: raising money for scholarships to Anytown, planning the Fellowship Assembly hearing speakers of different religions, and visiting various churches.

Activities include sponsoring the film, "A Patch of Blue," picnics for the club, and a banquet at the end of the year.

KEY CLUB

Key Club is a honor and service club. A 3.0 grade average is required plus active participation in various activities.

This year they helped collect money for the T.A.P. drive and sponsored various clean up jobs around campus. Key Club held the Christmas Semi-formal and sponsored the annual Harlem Clown-Faculty Basketball game.

BARRACUDA

Barracuda's prime purpose was to further girls' interest in swimming, learning synchronized swimming, and various water ballet stunts.

They taught handicapped children to swim, put on a water show for orphans, and participated in competitive swim meets.

Selection was based on try-outs of various water ballet stunts.

BOWLING

As a fun club, the main objective of the Bowling Club is to learn bowling for recreation and relaxation. Also, competing against other schools, awards are given for the bowler with the highest average.

D.E.C.A.

Distributive Education is designed to develop respect for education in marketing which will contribute to vocational competence, and to promote appreciation in our free enterprise system.

Requirements for DECA are: at least 16 years of age, a senior, and completion of Marketing the previous year.

During your Senior year DECA finds a job for you. You attend 2 or 3 classes in the morning, and during the last half of the day you go to work. While also earning money, you earn credits at your job.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club's specific purpose is to promote interest in the German language and culture.

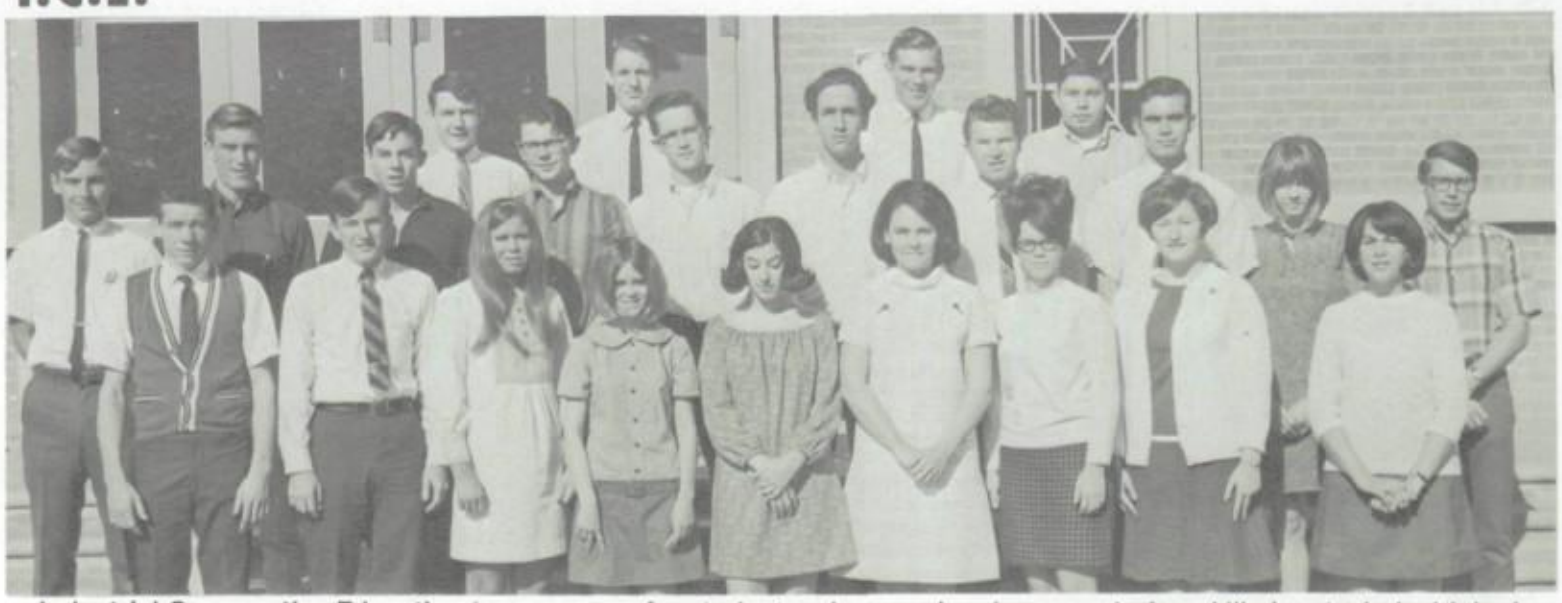
Some of the German Club's more unforgettable projects this year were: the croquet war with the English Department, a race against the Spanish Club to conquer Squaw Peak, a 28 mile bike hike to Lake Pleasant, and the annual May 12th Book burning.

G.A.A.

This year G.A.A. had many worthwhile and fun activities. Girls had playdays with other schools, a slumber party, Bike Hike, Mother-Daughter Activity Night, and sponsored the Honors and Awards Banquet.

G.A.A.'s job is to promote leadership, group spirit, good sportsmanship, social relations, athletic skills, and a permanent interest in sports.

I.C.E.



Industrial Co-operative Education is a program for students who are planning on entering skilled or technical jobs in industry upon graduation.

I.C.E. enables students to obtain on-the-job training experience and promotes labor-management relations.

I.C.E. also sponsored a Homecoming Float and adopted a Christmas Family.

GIRLS LETTER CLUB

Girls Letter Club's main objective is to promote service. To become a member you must have earned a letter in G.A.A. or in one of the Varsity sports.

One of their many activities was selling Booster Badges at football and basketball games.

LETTERMEN

West High Lettermen Club's purpose was to unite the Varsity Lettermen into an organization for the betterment of athletics, sportsmanship, and traditions here at West.

They had a Candy sale for TAP, a $50 donation to the P.E. department, and raised money for the football blaster.

NATIONAL THESPIANS

Furthering an interest in drama, National Thespians help with the school plays, provide speakers, and skits for interested students.

QUILL&SCROLL

Quill & Scroll is an organization which brings recognition to Juniors and Seniors who maintain a 3.0 grade average and are outstanding in fields of publications, photography, and journalism.

They raised money by bake sales, car washes, rummage sales, and various other activities to send students to California for an educational trip. Other activities include: the traditional on-campus initiation, a banquet, and attending the formal initiation.

RADIO CLUB

Earning an amateur radio license is the goal of Radio club members. Besides watching demonstrations and having code practice sessions, they work to pass requirements for their license.

GYMNASTICS

This club in its first year of existence, earned enough money to buy new uniforms and give a performance to Heard Elementary. Interested girls learned to use the balance beam, horizontal bar, and the trampoline, while also learning special stunts.

SPANISH CLUB

West High Spanish Club — Los Compadres helps to promote better understanding of the Spanish language and cus toms.

Open to all students, whether taking Spanish or not, this club sold paper flowers and had a garter sale at Rodeo. The only requirement to belong is an interest in Spanish.

SPEECH&DEBATE

The active Speech & Debate team has competed in many contests, the most important being the Forensic League of Arizona and the A.I.A. A variety of catagories can be entered, from extemporaneous speaking to dramatic reading. The debate team, working hard all year, debated on this topic. Resolved: that Congress should establish uniform regulations to control criminal investigation procedures.

LITERARY

In the interest of modern literature and creative writing, the Literary club was open to all members of the student body. Each year they published a creative writing magazine in addition to their guest speakers which include writers, directors, and journalists.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Over the years, while looking through the 1968 WESTERNER, you'll be reminded of many things. Among these are, the excitement of football games, special classes, assemblies, and the cafeteria food.

The WESTERNER Staff has tried through photography and copy to record and portray life as it was at West. They worked many extra hours after school and on Saturdays writing copy, printing pictures, and drawing layouts. But the production of a yearbook requires the help of many people besides the Staff. Without the help and advice of these people this book would never have been completed. I would like to now express my appreciation to the following:

Mr. Richard Zimmerman, Westerner Advisor, for his experienced advice and moral support in making the 1967-68 Westerner a reality.

Hank Shulman, from Killgore Graphics, for the wonderful advice and correction of any of our errors.

Mr. Fincher's typists for doing such an accurate job on the indexes.

The Administrative office for answering our many questions.

Ira Stein, for allowing us to use his negatives of the "Miracle Worker."

Bob Wilcox Studio, for their usual great job and prompt delivery of the Senior and Honors sections.

Special thanks to Connie Lotspeich, Ann Rutledge, Darlene Shepperd, Terri Black, Pam Cannon, and Steve Opitz, for the many extra hours and hard work which made it possible to present the 1967-68 Westerner to the Students and Faculty of West High.

Your Editor,

Pam Householder

Liz,
To my wonderful and very much cherished friend. We had some good times in Chemistry, even though we didn't excel! Our talks helped us to understand each other and further our friendship. I hope we will always be the best of friends!

Liz,
this year has been really great, and you have helped to make it even better. You just said not to tell you that you are sweet - so I won't; besides I really don't know anyway - you may be salty - and you are sweet - I know. You have been a great sour for all I know. You have been a great fellowship and I think you are a pool?? never tasted pretty funny - and you're worker in time. Remember the party - and you're don't supposed to be washing the dishes. that was pretty funny - especially getting on time. Remember the party - and you're don't supposed to be washing the dishes. that was pretty funny - especially big temptation - like as funny as a smart slap on the since we have a fun summer and maybe I'll was really funny. take care. Dear Liz—

I can't write now 'cuz we are in Dick's car coming home from the Prom decorating & we were suppose to pick up flowers about 10 min ago so Dick is driving ~~fast~~ quite fast, ~~so~~ I'll finish later!

Back again (finally). We got the flowers and everything. The Prom was just perfect! I never had a more beautiful evening, ~~with anyone~~ ~~it~~ mainly cuz of who I was with! I hope it all lasts (I think you know what I mean). Mitch is really wonderful — I wonder what he thinks of me? Thanks for fixing dinner and all for us; that was really nice. (Well Liz — time well tell how all goes.)

This year has really been great. I'll miss you next year (I hope we keep in touch though!). You've been a great friend — I hope I've been the same.

Good luck in the future and remember

Liz,

You have always been one of my most dear friends. Since freshman year its been really great. (Did I ever thank you for the plane ride?) If you stay as hard working, as concerned about people, as interested in life as you have been (and I hope you will go forward and improve those qualities.) I know you'll go very far in life. It will be rich and rewarding and you'll always have happy years to remember. You've really been an inspiration to me. (I mean it) I'll never forget your sincere personality.
